17 KILLED, 51 INJURED IN PITCHED BATTLE IN MEXICO CITY

Federal Troops Guard Badly Battered Municipal Building Following Night of Wild Excitement—Police and Mob Clash as Result of Protest Against Water Famine

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.) Federal troops guarded a badly battered municipal building today while the city council considered the possibility of a pitched battle between the police and a mob which attempted to storm the building last night. The death list as a result of the fighting stood at 17 early today, while 51 persons are known to have been seriously injured and 33 slightly hurt. It was thought that a closer check might reveal further casualties.

The city, after a night of wild excitement, found its main plaza before the municipal building a shambles of broken glass, timbers and stone—evidence of the attack of the mob which forced its way into the building half an hour after the police rifles had taken their toll.

The trouble, which lasted for more than six hours, started when a crowd marched to the city hall to protest against the situation which is held responsible for conditions leading to the water famine. The demonstration was intended by the labor unions that organized it as a peaceful protest, and several hundred persons paraded the WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The movement to organize a progressive bloc in congress took definite form today at a conference, behind closed doors, attended by more than a score of senators and representatives of the present and next congress.

Their meeting was preliminary to a general conference tomorrow of national progressive leaders at the Hotel Hamilton in Washington.

NATIVE OF CHELMSFORD

Dean Emeritus Emerson of Dartmouth College Dies

HANOVER, N. H., Dec. 1.—Dean Emeritus Charles F. Emerson of Dartmouth college, who had given 45 years of devoted service to the institution, died here today. He had been ill two months, the sickness coming on just before the Dartmouth-Harvard football game at Cambridge which he had planned to attend to carry out his custom of seeing the college athletes learn to action at every opportunity.

Dean Emerson, a graduate of Dartmouth in the class of 1865, was the first instructor in gymnastics. Subsequently, he taught mathematics, astronomy and philosophy, holding the latter chair when he gave up teaching to devote all his time to the administrative duties of dean in 1899. He retired in 1913 at the age of 48 years.

Mrs. Emerson, who, like her husband, was a native of Chelmsford, Mass., and two daughters, survive.

WIFE SAID HUSBAND MADE DIRE THREATS

"This is the last hour for you and me to live," said Martin Sopel to his wife, as he came home last night and flourished a pistol in her face, according to what she told Judge Fisher in police court this morning. Although no shooting was done, Martin, who was a large shiner, according to what he admitted to the court later when he took the stand, he said that he hit his wife in the eye because she wouldn't listen to him.

It was brought out that Martin contributed to the support of his wife and their children and outside of the fact that he got a bit forceful at times in his expressions and his manner of impressing things upon his wife, he was a pretty fair sort of a provider. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sentenced to the house of correction for four months. He was then placed on probation for six months with the sentence suspended.

REQUIEM MASS

MULLEN—A month's mind mass for the repose of the soul of the late Rev. Francis Mullen, S.T.L., will be sung at St. Michael's church tomorrow morning at 8 o'clock. Requested by the Knights of Columbus.

TWO SURPRISE WEDDINGS

Representative Slowey Weds Miss Mary Nelson—Dwyer-O'Dwyer Wedding

Mr. Charles H. Slowey, well known insurance man and representative to the state legislature from the 14th district, and Miss Mary Nelson, of 728 Lawrence street, were united in marriage Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock and at the same hour was solemnized the marriage of Mr. John H. Dwyer, member of the Lowell board of assessors, and Miss Della M. O'Dwyer of 9 Dover street.

More than ordinary interest is attached to each announcement, inasmuch as the men are closely connected in their personal and business relations and the marriage intentions of each of them had been kept absolutely secret. In addition, both young men are widely known in the city and are prominent in public and private life.

No intimation of his intended marriage had been made to his fellow members of the assessing board by Mr. Dwyer, and Mr. Slowey successfully had kept his intentions from even his most intimate friends.

The marriage of Mr. Dwyer and Miss Della M. O'Dwyer was solemnized at the rectory of St. Margaret's church at 5 p. m. on Wednesday. Rev. William P. Brennan, Mr. Edward J. Donnelly, city purchasing agent, was best man and the bridesmaid was Miss Mona O'Dwyer, sister of the bride. A reception followed at the home of the bride, 7 Dover street, and later in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer left on a wedding trip that will take them as far south as Washington. On their return they will live at 7 Dover street.

The wedding of Mr. Slowey and Miss Nelson took place at the Sacred Heart church rectory, where the ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. John P. Flynn, O.M.I. Mr. Leo J. LeClair was best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Anna Nelson, sister of the bride. A reception was held at the home of the bride, 728 Lawrence street, and a luncheon was served by Caterer Lydon. Mr. and Mrs. Slowey also are on a wedding trip to New York and Washington and undoubtedly will join Mr. and Mrs. Dwyer at some point during the trip.

POLICE GUARD BALLOT BOXES AT CITY HALL

Two policemen, each on duty for a stretch of 12 hours, are guarding the ballot boxes at city hall that contain the votes cast in the city primary election on Tuesday. The officers are on duty at the request of John J. Donovan, who was nominated as the opponent of Mayor George H. Brown.

As far as could be learned today the officers occupy chairs just outside the vault in the basement in which the precinct boxes are stored. The first officer went on duty early Wednesday morning when the returns had all been tabulated by the election commission and the boxes had been stored away.

A similar watch was kept over the ballots a year ago, when Mayor Flynn, at that time a nominee, made a similar request.

CONNERS IS PROBING HIGH SCHOOL BILLS

Dennis E. Connors, contractor, who at present is pressing action against the high school building commission relative to the erection of the new school by Daniel H. Walker and seeking to obtain a permanent injunction to stop payment of all money due to him under the contract, is making an examination of all transactions between the city and the Engineering Service and Construction Co., contractor of the Central bridge job.

A few days ago Mr. Connors requested the city auditor to make a copy of all bills submitted to the city by the Engineering Service and Construction Co., but when the large amount of routine work in the auditor's office made this an impossibility, Mr. Connors secured someone else to do this special work and today a young woman from a local business college came to the auditor's office and began to copy the amounts of the bills and items covered therein.

Arguments before a master have been completed in the case brought against the high school building commission by Mr. Connors and his purpose in examining the bills in the Central bridge job is not known.

MORE NEW NAMES ON VOTING LISTS

The only registration session before the city election was held by the board of election commissioners Wednesday afternoon and evening, during which time 127 names were added to the list. The law states that there can be no registration of new voters within 20 days of election day and inasmuch as election falls on December 19, Wednesday was the only day that possibly could be utilized.

Men and women, however, who were on the voting lists last year, but have been dropped for some reason or other, may have their names again placed on the list by applying in the office of the election commission any time before the 19th.

New names added Wednesday were distributed in the nine wards as follows: Ward 1, 13; ward 2, nine; ward 3, 20; ward 4, seven; ward 5, 11; ward 6, 23; ward 7, 19; ward 8, 11; ward 9, five.

MANY ENLISTMENTS HERE FOR NAVY

Enlistments in the navy at the local recruiting station have taken a step forward during the past month, more than 32 young men, ranging in age from 15 to 20, being sent to Boston for final examination. The local recruiters give all applicants a preliminary examination here and then send them to Boston where a navy doctor subjects them to a more rigid test. If the Boston authorities pass satisfactorily on the applicant he is sent to Newport for his apprenticeship and after a few months there, a ship assignment is given. This morning one Lieutenant Francis M. Egan of 117 Tenth street, enlisted as an electrician. He will receive additional training in the navy electrical school and awarded a rating.

WALTER J. CLEARY ASKS FOR RECOUNT

Walter J. Cleary, defeated for a nomination as ward councillor in ward 5 by 241 votes, this morning took out recount papers at the office of the election commissioners. Mr. Cleary alleged third in a field of four candidates. Heading the list in that ward was the present councillor, Daniel P. Moriarty, with 155 votes. Next came John P. Gookin with 532 votes and Mr. Cleary was third man with 222 votes, or 241 votes back of the second man.

GIRL TELLS POLICE GUILTY TOLD HER HE KILLED TOUCHE

Shot Grocer in Woonsocket, R. I., After Bitter Struggle in Which She Were Exchanged—Alleged Slave Escaped From Police by Jumping Out of Window and Carrying Slave With Him—Armed With Two Revolvers

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Dec. 1.—Police officials this morning declared that Miss Yvonne Martin of this city, sweetheart of Isidore Guitault, alleged to be the hand who fatally shot Alvin Touche, a Blackstone grocer in his store Wednesday evening and yesterday escaped capture by jumping from a window of his home, has confessed that Guitault admitted to her that he committed the deed.

Miss Martin, the police say, declared Guitault took her to a dance Wednesday evening at Silver Lake, Belknap, and told her of the encounter in Touche's store in Blackstone and expressed the hope that his police officials this morning declared that Miss Yvonne Martin of this city, sweetheart of Isidore Guitault, alleged to be the hand who fatally shot Alvin Touche, a Blackstone grocer in his store Wednesday evening and yesterday escaped capture by jumping from a window of his home, has confessed that Guitault admitted to her that he committed the deed.

CAPTAIN AND SIX OF CREW PERISHED WHEN CANADIAN SHIP BROKE UP

CALUMET, Mich., Dec. 1.—Captain Nazim Bernard and six of the crew of the Canadian steamer Maplebank perished today when the ship broke up a mile west of here, during a heavy gale. Nine others of the crew were rescued, jumping from the bridge into a life boat.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Irish constitution bill passed unamended today, through the committee of the house of lords. It will not, however, receive its third reading until Monday.

LOWELL DISTRICT COURT

More Alleged Violators of Volstead Act Arraigned Today—Other Cases

It is an unusual thing to see men of advanced years appeared in the local court charged with infractions of the liquor laws as was the case this morning when two men, one aged 74 and the other 53, were arraigned charged with the violation of the liquor laws. Jacob A. Shapira, aged 53, pleaded to illegal keeping and lightened his bank roll to the extent of $100.

Osmund L. Field, aged 74, appeared charged with two liquor offenses. He was charged with illegal sale and illegal keeping. He pleaded to have the cases continued for two weeks and his request was granted. When told that $300 bail would be required in each case the defendant replied, "Well, I didn't come prepared to pay all that money. It's only been $200 before."

"Since that time we've raised the ante," said Deputy Chief Downey. "You see we have got to keep abreast of the times."

Whereupon the defendant drew out a roll of bills and handed the clerk a check of ten, five, two and ones. When the clerk counted them over he found he had received $100.00, and so he made the refund. Field furnished $100 in cash and the remainder was furnished in a bank book.

Topas Bachus of Draught, pleaded guilty to illegal keeping of a fine of $100. A like fine was upon Florence J. Murphy of B. He appeared and was ordered to pay $200.

John G. Lowe pleaded guilty to a fine of $35, over and over to John Wier, and to the liquor tazer, brush and comb and a property of James Brooks, on parole from the Lynde, was taken back by Officer G. James Cavill, who pleaded liquor offense, when told that whose sentence was withheld day was granted a continuance weeks before sentence would be passed.

Louis Bazikos was arraigned charged of breaking and entering into the home of Mrs. Augusta. He was held in $100. The defendant was in position and brought here by Officer William Linton, that he broke into the house of the complainant on Newbury street and stole a quantity of a revolver.

Further it that charged support had his case continued. On a like charge Joseph was held in bonds of $200 and row. He pleaded not guilty, having been away from his five days.

Daniel J. Lynch of Lawrence, James Galvin of Boston, yesterday and went through a session of the city court according to what (report) told the court. He said the hand, both men admitted and were each fined $5.

Joseph Zarick pleaded not drunkenness, was found and held until tomorrow for a fine on parole from the state. Zarick, Doyle was in position as Zarick, charged guilty. He was held in tomorrow.

Arthur Nilson paid a pleading guilty to operating a cycle recklessly in Newbury street. He was fined $25. He was held in to answer a charge of case was again continued for one week.

Over the holiday, the arrests made for drunkenness number 10 faced the court released.

REV. N. W. MATTHEWS

Well Known Clergyman Died
Last Night at Parsonage in Ellsworth Street

Rev. N. W. Matthews, Ph.D., beloved pastor of the First Primitive Methodist church for many years and one of Lowell's best known clergymen, passed away shortly before midnight last night at the parsonage on Ellsworth street after a seven-day illness. He was 64 years old.

The death of this well known clergyman, whose record as a disseminator of the gospel was notable and whose career has always been referred to as one of rare merit and successful effort, comes as a distinct shock to the clergyman's host of friends and close associates far and near. He was not only popular in religious circles, but a most considerate gentleman of the school of human fraternity. He filled a niche in the community that will be hard to fill.

The pastor had been in poor health for several weeks, but was not obliged to take to his bed until about a week ago. He grew rapidly worse late in evening, rallied slightly, then had a sudden relapse. The end was peaceful.

Rev. Mr. Matthews was in the 15th year of his ministry when taken ill. Twenty-nine of these years were spent in the First Primitive Methodist church of Lowell. He also ministered to churches in Fall River and New Bedford and in the state of Pennsylvania before his return to Lowell for permanent residence. He was the founder of the First Primitive Methodist church of Lowell and lived to see it prosper.

The clergyman had an interesting career. Rev. Nathaniel Williams Matthews was born in Cromwell, Conn., May 18, 1858, of old Methodist stock. When a boy of 15 he emigrated to the United States with his parents, went to Michigan, then Connecticut, and finally settled in Pennsylvania. He was conspicuous in his early years as a preacher of merit in the mining regions, and also worked in the coal mines in that section. He studied actively, attending both public and private schools, went into Wyoming seminary, Swain school, and also took a theological course at Taylor university and receiving there the degree of Ph.D.

In 1879 Rev. Mr. Matthews was sent to this city to reorganize the Primitive Methodist church. In three months he had gathered in 18 members and enrolled 70 names in the Sunday school. He pursued his religious studies as usual, and later in the same year was received into the ministry, then becoming the active head of the First Primitive Methodist church in fact.

After four years here with this religious organization, Rev. Mr. Matthews was sent to reorganize the Primitive Methodist churches in New Bedford and Fall River, and again in 1897 he came back to Lowell to the head of the church over which he ministered up to the time of his death. He recently celebrated his 25th anniversary as pastor, and had gained the high esteem and affection of clergyman of all denominations in the city and immediate vicinity.

The pastor was the founder, editor and publisher of the "Primitive Methodist Journal" but retired from that work some time ago because of pressure at other religious duties. He was a member of Mineral lodge of St. Clair, P.A.O.O.F.; was chaplain of Pentucket lodge of Masons, this city; member of Irene lodge of Good Templars and boy honorary member of Waverley lodge of Sons of St. George, this city. He served for six terms as president of the Primitive Methodist conference.

He was also appointed to the chaplaincy of the Lowell jail in June, 1904, and retained that title up to the abandonment of the jail. Rev. Mr. Matthews married in 1882 Miss Ida J. Butterworth of this city. Besides his wife, three children, Nathaniel W., Jr., John W., and Miss Martha P., survive him.

LEBELIN—The funeral of Mrs. Alice (Ballargeon) Lebelin, wife of Edouard Lebelin, took place yesterday morning at 8 o'clock from her home, 14 Pawtucket street, and was largely attended. A solemn high funeral mass was celebrated at St. Jean Baptiste church by Rev. Guillaume Ouellette, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Augustin Gratton, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. J. A. Fortier, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. The choir, under the direction of Rodolphe E. Pepin, sang the Gregorian chant. The bearers were Joseph Lebelin, Joseph Lebelin, Charles Lebelin, John Larose and Arthur Houle. There were many flowers. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery, where Very Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I., read the committal prayers. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertaker Amadeo Archambault & Sons.

"Doctor, I Want Teeth I Can Eat With"

A man came into this office some time ago and made the above statement. He said he had two sets of teeth and could not eat with either of them. I made him a set and he came in the office later and said they were the only ones he could keep in his mouth while eating. In fact he could chew peanuts and eat apples without the least trouble.

The reason for this is my particular method of taking impressions, study of the shape and relation of the jaws, and correct articulation of the teeth.

Now I can make you a set of teeth just as good as his. If your plate drops or rocks come in, for I make a specialty of difficult cases and will examine your mouth and give you advice free of charge.

LOWELL CASES IN THE PROBATE COURT

(Special to The Sun)
CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—Julia Henry, of Lowell, has filed a libel for divorce against her husband, James, of Portland, Me. She alleges cruel and abusive treatment, and desertion on June 23, 1912. The couple were married August 30, 1899, and have one child, Mary, whose custody the mother is seeking.

Pauline C. Mathison, of Lowell, has filed a libel for divorce against her husband, Adelard J., now of parts unknown. She alleges cruel and abusive treatment, and desertion on April 1, 1910. The couple were married May 16, 1902.

Albert J. Ryan, of Lowell, has been sued for $500 in action of contract, by Minlay Chisholm, also of Lowell, who alleges that Ryan has failed to meet his promissory note for $165.

Arthur J. Layhorn, of Lowell, has been sued for $2500 in action of tort, by Francis J. Cole, of Somerville, who alleges that his automobile was badly damaged as a result of a collision with an automobile owned by Layhorn.

The will of Ruth Newcomb Greene, of Lowell, has been filed for probate. She died November 15 and leaves an estate valued at $34,000, all personal property. The will names as executor her son, John M. Green, who names his father, William S. Green, as appointed his agent. Under the terms of the will the husband, William S. Green, is bequeathed $500; a daughter, Ruth N. Green, $5,000; and the residuum goes to a son, John M. Green. The will is returnable at East Cambridge December 14.

Albert A. and Ethel B. Hooper, of Providence, R. I., have adopted, through the court, Albert A. Wilson, year-old son of Harriett Lorana Wilson, of Lowell. The adoption was allowed with the consent of the boy's mother, and the boy's name is changed to Albert A. Hooper.

William H. Wilson, of Lowell, has filed a petition asking that he be appointed administrator of the estate of Charles E. Farrington, of Tewksbury, who died November 22. Bond of $10,000. The estate is valued at $6,000, of which $5,000 is in real and $1000 in personal property. The petition is returnable at East Cambridge December 14.

the members of the Highland church, the Highland Congregational, Calvary Baptist, Highland Union M. E., and Grace Universalist churches, was held yesterday afternoon, at 5 o'clock at the Grace church and it was largely attended. Special music was given by the choir and a forceful sermon was delivered by Rev. Joseph E. Kennedy of the First Presbyterian church, who preached from the text found in Romans, first chapter, 21st verse. His theme was the reaction upon life, of a spirit of thanksgiving, resulting in deeper appreciation of God's blessings and of God himself, in contrast with the practical effect upon life of being thankful. He cited the effect on the heathen world, as shown in his text, leading to degradation of character, and then the effect of a knowledge of God and of His blessings, leading to proper recognition of Him, as our father; and ultimately, the effect upon character, leading to the development of all those higher institutions of society that are the product of human impulses of generosity and sympathy, developed through religion.

What give bread its "bloom"?

The answer to above question will appear in this space tomorrow.

Yesterday's Question: Should its texture be velvety?

The Answer: The loaf as a whole, the crust, and the smallest crumb should be tender, and yet, if pressed out of shape, it should regain its form when the pressure is removed. Bond Bread is velvety because it is scientifically baked of the purest materials, as listed on the wrapper of each loaf.

OBSERVED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

The 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Wilson of Seventh Avenue, Pawtucketville, was observed Thanksgiving at their home by the immediate family and Mr. and Mrs. T. Raymond Pierce of Wellesley. Thanksgiving evening of 1872 Mr. Wilson married Miss Mary P. Clement of Duxbury, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Clement. Many cards and letters of congratulation were received and also numerous gifts at their home Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are enjoying good health. They have four children, Mrs. Howard M. Estabrook, Mrs. Helen M. Snyder, Bertha E. Wilson and J. Clement Wilson, all of Lowell.

B. U. HONORS LOWELL STUDENTS

Three Lowell students at Boston University have received recognition from the authorities for excellence in their work. Miss Marjorie B. WILL CUT THE STREET DEPARTMENT PAYROLL

More than 100 temporary employees of the street department will be cut from the payroll beginning next Monday by order of the board of public service, which finds it necessary to follow a system of retrenchment if that department is to function financially for the remainder of the year. This will not affect the program of work for the year, it is said, for practically all jobs now upon will be completed by that time.

The decision to cut the temporary men from the payroll was made Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the public service board, at which routine matters primarily were discussed.

Foremen in the street department filed a request for a blanket raise of $1 a day, but no action was taken.

The board notified City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney to prepare releases in settlement of the claim of Michael J. Ready for back wages in the amount of $1100, which is the sum agreed upon by the board and Thos. L. Reynolds, attorney for Mr. Ready, who was discharged and reinstated as engineer at the city ledge.

Councillor Arthur Genest of ward 7 appeared before the board to urge proper draining of Mt. Hope street and the acceptance of Thos. L. Reynolds, attorney for Mr. Ready, who was discharged and reinstated as engineer at the city ledge.

MAN IS IDENTIFIED

Sensational Testimony Heard in $25,000 Alienation of Affection Suit

The testimony offered Wednesday afternoon in the alienation of affection suit brought by Elmer E. Perrigo of Bedford, N. H., against Edgar F. Twombly of Billerica, which is on trial in superior court, was more or less sensational. Mr. Perrigo is seeking to obtain $25,000 from the Billerica man on the grounds that he alienated the affections of his wife. Following Wednesday's session the court adjourned until next Monday.

A feature of the day's trial was the identification of a woman named Ella Whitehead who has been present throughout the trial of the case. Mr. Twombly, who was put on the stand in his own defense, said that it was Miss Whitehead who was with him in a local hotel on July 25. He says he sent for her because he had one of his attacks, sufferings from terrible pains in his foot. He says she attended him there as she had done for four or five years, whenever he suffered one of his attacks.

He testified to taking an auto trip some time in 1921 in company with Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo and Miss Whitehead. The party went to Montreal, stopping at various places on the way. Whenever the party stayed over it was registered as Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo and Mr. and Mrs. W. Gray. The defendant said that he had been in the habit of calling himself Gray.

Miss Whitehead, the lady referred to is apparently about 35 years old, of slight build and weighs about 120 or 130 pounds. She wears a pair of tortoise shell glasses. This description tallies with the one given by the hotel clerk, of the lady who was with Mr. Twombly on July 25.

Mr. Twombly claims that it was at the request of Mr. Perrigo that the meeting at another Lowell hotel was arranged for on Aug. 4 and that it was for the purpose of straightening out business tangles.

Mr. Evans, manager of the Cadillac hotel at Manchester, testified to the defendant, who was pointed out to him in court going to the hotel a few days before this trial opened and examining the signatures of W. G. Gray and wife, on the register.

In testifying the witness repeatedly referred to the defendant as "Mr. Gray."

"Call him Mr. Twombly," said Mr. Wilson.

The witness told of introducing "Mr. Gray" to Inspector Sullivan.

The witness said that Twombly identified one of the signatures, that of "W. G. Gray and wife" as his own, saying "That is my signature. I don't deny being here."

The witness also said that Twombly also pointed to the registration "G. W. Gray and wife," saying "that is her signature."

The two leaves from the hotel register were put in evidence.

The plaintiffs' counsel rested, and there was argument by counsel in the absence of the jury, on a technical question, upon which Judge Cox did not rule at the time.

Atty. Wilson opened for the defense and outlined what he proposed to show, and then put Mr. Twombly on the stand.

He then put the events of his meeting the Perrigos and of their business dealings. He denied the testimony of the boy, Clarence Hobbs, who said that he saw the defendant and Mrs. Perrigo lying on a couch and denied that he was ever friendly with Mrs. Perrigo.

Mr. Twombly said that the first time he overheard of Mr. Perrigo's trouble with his wife was when he was called to Manchester. He said he saw Mrs. Perrigo at the house and that she said "I am not going to be knocked down and kicked all over this house by any man."

He related his version of the incidents of the meeting at the hotel on August 4. He said that Mrs. Perrigo went to room 205. No familiarities took place he said.

"Did you ever kiss her?"

"No."

"I started to talk business with her about the lawsuit," Mr. Twombly said, "and she said I was helping Elmer, so that she could not get her divorce. I told her that was not so. When the three men came in (Perrigo and two others) I told the officers it was surely a matter of business, and one of them as much as called me liar."

"What did you say to Perrigo?"

"Most everything I could think of."

"It has been testified that you said to Mrs. Perrigo, when you all left the hotel 'don't go with him.' Did you say that?"

"I did not."

He gave his account of the meeting in Nashua on Aug. 25, and said he went there because Mrs. Perrigo had telephoned and asked him to go. When they were driving out the Keene road an automobile passed them, and Perrigo flung out his hand and said "I have caught you again," Mrs. Perrigo said she was afraid of Perrigo, and wanted to go back to Nashua, which they did. They were just talking business, while driving out the Keene road.

Asked if he had ever wished Mrs. Perrigo to leave her husband, Mr. Twombly answered, "no sir."

"Or ever promised to marry her or to give her any money?"

"No sir."

"Or induced her to bring divorce suits or to bring any suits against you, or to do any one thing to the detriment of her husband?"

"No sir."

On being asked about the registration at a local hotel on July 25, under the name of G. W. Gray and wife, the counsel asked Miss Whitehead to please stand. The lady stood. She has been in attendance every day, at the trial of the case.

He said that Miss Whitehead has trained two and a half years, as a nurse.

"Is her employment by you well known to Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo?"

"Yes sir."

Mr. Howard, cross-examining, went closely into his business dealings with the Perrigos. Mr. Twombly said that Perrigo did not pay him one cent for what he did for him, that he was always short of money. "I loaned him money besides," he said.

Perrigo, he said, gave him two notes, totaling $4500, and he returned them to Perrigo when Perrigo gave him a deed to the farm. Subsequently, a deed was given to Thelma Perrigo, a daughter of Perrigo.

"Without notifying Mr. Perrigo?"

"Yes."

"That was done on July 27, two days after you were at the inn, was it not?"

"I cannot tell."

Reference to the document proved this to be the case.

"Does Mr. Morgan owe you any money?"

"No."

"Do you owe him any money?"

"No."

The witness said that he had paid Mr. Morgan all that he owed him. He

WRETCHEDLY NERVOUS WOMAN

Was Depressed and Irritable—Now Well and Always Cheerful

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least thing made my heart flutter and my limbs tremble as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clap of thunder would make me shriek from terror. I finally became so depressed, fidgety and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually ashamed of myself."

I began taking Wincarnis and after a very short time the improvement in my whole condition was really startling. Everyone commented on it. Today my appetite is excellent, I sleep soundly, am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or run-down woman could know what a wonderful tonic and restorative Wincarnis is."

ter who was a minor at Perrigo's request, the intention being that Thelma should have a guardian. Perrigo said that he could not raise any money in his own name, and pay the two notes. Twombly accepted the suggestion, although he owned the equity in the farm at that time. It now stands in the name of Mr. Morgan, he said. His explanation is that Perrigo neither returned the deed nor paid the notes, and so he made out a deed and Mr. Morgan put it on record, for his protection.

"Without notifying Mr. Perrigo?"

"Yes."

"That was done on July 27, two days after you were at the inn, was it not?"

"I cannot tell."

Reference to the document proved this to be the case.

"Does Mr. Morgan owe you any money?"

"No."

"Do you owe him any money?"

"No."

The witness said that he had paid Mr. Morgan all that he owed him. He admitted that there was no financial consideration in the transfer of the deed to Morgan, that he just wanted to protect himself.

"In what way did you think it would protect you?"

"I did not know."

"This present suit was brought against you on the same day that you and Mrs. Perrigo were at a local hotel, was it not?"

"It was brought against me on the fourth."

"And your automobile was attached?"

"Yes."

"On the fourth or fifth?"

"In the evening or afternoon of the fifth you released the attachment on your automobile, did you not?"

"Yes, sir."

"On the following Monday at 8.05 in the morning Mr. Morgan in your automobile reached Nashua and recorded the deed, did he not?"

"I do not know at what time. It was done on that day."

It was agreed that the deed was recorded at Nashua, at five minutes past eight.

"And this was for the express purpose, was it not, to defraud Mr. Perrigo of this farm?"

"No, sir."

"Was it so that he would not attach it?"

"No."

"Then what was your purpose in doing it?"

"I do not know exactly."

Mr. Howard then took up the subject of automobile trip to Montreal, in 1921, about which Mr. Twombly had testified in direct examination. According to his testimony, Miss Whitehead was with him on that trip and also Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo. They stopped at several hotels along the way, and always, when they stayed over night, they registered as Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo and G. W. Gray and wife.

"Why did you register with Elka Whitehead as G. W. Gray and wife?" Mr. Perrigo and I slept together, and the two women slept together. "I didn't ask you that. I asked why you registered in that way."

"It was a habit I had."

"Was there any particular reason why you wanted to call yourself G. W. Gray at that time?"

"No."

"It was just a peculiarity of yours?"

"That may be."

"Did it ever occur to you that these registrations would be damaging to her reputation?"

"Why, no. Not when there was no harm done."

Judge Cox questioned him about the places where they stopped, and he could not remember. He knew they went to Montpelier, but could not recall the name of the hotel at which they registered.

Mr. Twombly admitted that he guaranteed a luncheon bill in Manchester for Mr. Perrigo. He was absolutely sure it was for Mr. Perrigo, not for Mrs. Perrigo.

Mr. Howard showed him a paper, and he said the signature attached was not his. He did not know the handwriting in the body of the paper. Never saw the paper before, he said.

Mr. Howard offered the paper for comparison of the signature with that on the checks which Mr. Twombly had admitted signing, and after examining the signatures Judge Cox admitted them, explaining to the jury that they were to consider the paper only as a specimen of handwriting to compare with the signature on the checks, that they were to give the paper no consideration, unless they decide that the signature is the same as those on the checks.

Mr. Howard asked: "Now do you still say that you guaranteed the luncheon for Mr. Perrigo and not for Mrs. Perrigo?"

"Yes, sir. I signed the paper at all."

Mr. Howard, cross-examined on the matter of the meeting in Manchester, when Mr. Twombly testified, Perrigo called upon him by telephone for help, saying he had been arrested for "killing his wife." This was the hearing on the preliminary divorce proceedings and the injunction, and there was no arrest. Mr. Twombly was mixed up, in regard to the date of the hearing, and he could not tell the name of the hotel in Manchester, at which he said he stayed with Perrigo on that night, nor could he describe its location.

There was an outbreak of laughter in the court when Mr. Twombly said that he stopped at so many hotels he could not remember them all, and Judge Cox remonstrated, saying that if there was a recurrence of the incident on Monday, he would be obliged to order the court room cleared of all except the interested parties and witnesses.

Adjourned until next Monday.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Kidney is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Kidney is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

AMERICAN WOMEN SET UP OWN SKIRT LINES

Rebellion is rampant in America's women. They have revolted against Paris fashion dictators.

And in casting off their bondage to the whims of the French modiste, American women are creating distinctly American fashions.

These facts were obtained in a national survey made today by N.Y.A. service for the Sun.

Length of skirts caused it all. "The long period of 'freedom of the knees' was decreed ended by Paris some time ago.

Furthermore, this long skirt reassurance way to be no halfway measure, declared the French fashion czars. "Clear to the ground," read the advice.

The word was broadcasted throughout America. The modistes began designing them along "streamline" specifications. The department stores put the long skirt dresses and suits on display everywhere and began to stock up for the usual fall rush.

But the rush failed to materialize today's very shows.

Used the comfort of free motion allowed the short skirts. American women in the main, have refused to wear the clinging long-skirted modistes.

A few bought them. Most women didn't. Furthermore, they say they won't. Paris or no Paris.

The flapper type, knowing it will just out of favor with the leveling of the dresses, is certain to fight tooth and nail against any move against the short skirt," declared one fashion expert a few months ago.

Many defy Paris dictators. That expert spoke advisedly. Not only is the outspoken flapper aroused to action, but practically all of the

"UNDER THE SPOTLIGHT" WAS BIG SUCCESS

The musical comedy, "Under the Spotlight," presented to a capacity audience by the Young Men's Catholic Institute in the Auditorium last night was a great success and the participants are worthy of congratulations for their excellent work.

The presentation was divided into two parts, the first half of the program consisting of minstrelsy and the second half, a mixture of songs, dances and jokes. The soloists performed admirably and received wonderful support from the chorus and the men, the latter keeping the audience enthralled with their witticisms. Among the soloists were Patrick McGuire, assisted by his bamboo babies, in "Where the Bamboo Babies Grow," Miss Sadie Sheehan, Dorothy Nolan, Raymond Kelley, and Joseph Kelly. Specialty dance numbers were given by Miss Doris Conley, Al Drouin and Peggy O'Reilly.

The familiar "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheehan," featuring Edward J. Slattery and Charles J. Keyes was provocative of much laughter and forced the principals to exhaust their supply of amusing verses. At "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Sheehan," Mr. Keyes and Mr. Slattery referred to Mr. Brown and Mr. Donovan, mayoralty candidates who occupied front row seats and versified them to the amusement of themselves, the candidates and the audience.

A spectacle in connection with the show and worthy of honorable mention was the grand patriotic finale in which veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars took part. The show was directed by Dom M. and George E. Keegan of Boston and reflected much credit on their ability to get results. Miss Dorothy Lench, accompanist, played exceptionally well and harmonized beautifully with the soloists and choruses. General dancing was enjoyed after the show.

The program in detail was as follows:

Hints to Home Decorators by Luella Parsons

PEOPLE often ask me if there isn't some way to redecorate their dark or dingy rooms without going to a lot of expense. I am always glad to tell about Muralite. By using it, walls can be made bright and cheerful at a cost of a dollar or two a room.

Muralite is a powder that you mix with hot water. It can be put on over painted walls, plaster, wallboard, or tightly-pasted wall paper. You can apply Muralite very easily yourself, and you will be delighted with its soft, even, velvety finish.

Visit your paint dealer today and make your selection from the Muralite Color Card.

"Our floors are more than clean"

"Some housekeepers think that thorough and frequent scrubbing is all that floors ever need. I had that idea, too, before I realized that average soaps and scouring compounds haven't any effect on germs which get into floor cracks and crannies.

"Sarah Marsh enlightened me. She popped in one Friday morning, while I was mopping up the mud the Harrigan boy always brings into the kitchen when he delivers the meat. I don't believe he knows a door mat when he sees one right under his nose.

"Sarah watched me fill a fresh pail of scouring suds. 'Goodness gracious, Ethel!' she exclaimed. 'Why don't you use Sylpho-Nathol in your mop-water? How do you expect to destroy the germs in the dirt that's brought in from the street on people's shoes? Did you ever stop to think of the positive danger that is tracked back and forth across your floors from morning until night?'

"That's how I was introduced to Sylpho-Nathol.

"Sylpho-Nathol is an effective safeguard against germs because it is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid. But it doesn't hurt your hands a bit, nor injure things. The druggist says it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. Just a tablespoonful in a pail of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use."

Mop-water is just one of the many things for which Sylpho-Nathol is indispensable. It should be used regularly for sink drains and garbage receptacles; for cellar corners; around the bathroom fling and fixtures; as a flush for the closet bowl - wherever odors may start or disease germs breed. Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 16c, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name - "Sylpho-Nathol."

OUT OUR WAY

J.R. WILLIAMS

J. Hoffmann, Rev. Francis L. Shea, was deacon, and Rev. John M. Manion was sub-deacon. There was special music during the mass by St. Peter's choir.

John J. Donovan, a member of the Lowell post, who was nominated for mayor Tuesday, marched side by side with Mayor Brown as the trip from Main square to Rogers square was made.

FINE ENTERTAINMENT IN ASSOCIATE HALL

Paul Whiteman's Palala Royal orchestra of New York delighted a throng of music-lovers at Lowell Wednesday evening at Associate hall. In conjunction with Miner-Doyle's popular orchestra of this city, the metropolitan musical organization is known all over the country by its connection with the Victor Talking Machine company and its many recordings for that company. It is now filling an engagement at the Colonial theatre in Boston with George White's "Scandals of 1922."

At the Associate hall musical treat, Miner-Doyle's orchestra was enjoyed from 8:30 to 11 p. m., and at 11:15 Paul Whiteman's orchestra arrived and gave a concert until 12. There was jiggy jazz of the thrillingly snappy kind and symphonic offerings of rare merit known only to the Whiteman followers of genuinely good dance music. "I'm So Wild About Harry" was played with a peppy, brilliant and melodic style with various combinations of instruments that kept the crowd of dancers "on their toes." The music proved a revelation throughout. The two orchestras later played for general dancing alternately until 2 a. m. The hall was crowded all evening and the management of the affair has every reason to be proud of its success.

VICTORY STATUE TO BE REPAIRED

The Ayer Winged Victory statue was taken from its granite base at Monument square yesterday afternoon by a gang of men from Providence and taken by motor truck to the plant of the Gorham Mfg. Co. in the Rhode Island city where she will be decorated up and returned to her lofty pedestal.

A short while ago the statue showed signs of deterioration and it was found that needed repairs could not be made without taking it down. It will remain in the workshop of the Gorham Co. for several weeks and then will be replaced upon the base it has graced for the past 65 years.

YESTERDAY'S FIRES

The alarm from box 317 at 3:45 o'clock yesterday morning was for a slight blaze in the smoke house in the rear of the Highland Flax market at 302 Westford street. At 11:30 o'clock a telephone alarm was sent in for a blaze in a clothes closet at 21 Weber street. At 12:40 o'clock a portion of the department was sent to the First street dump for a brush fire.

GOOD SHOW AT THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC

L. O. David's pretty three-act drama, "Le Drapeau de Carleton," was presented in a very capable manner before a large and enthusiastic audience at the Academy of Music last evening. The performers were members of the Fleur de Lys troupe, all well known local amateurs, who have appeared to advantage before the footlight on previous occasions. The hall was filled to capacity, the program, which was elaborate, proved very enjoyable and in fact the performance was carried out without the slightest hitch and to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Those who took part were Jean Tessier and Mrs. Eva Forsythe in the leading parts; Albert LaFrance and Miss Eva Delude in the comic roles; Thomas Rochette, Joseph Belanger, Miss Irene Tessier, Roland Pedneault, Virgil Levy, Ernest Petrin, Albert Paris, Henri Marchand and George Bertrand. All showed great ability in the handling of their roles, but special mention should be made of Jean Tessier, Mrs. Eva Forsythe and Thomas Rochette, who rendered their lines in an artistic manner.

Between the acts there was a minute by Mrs. Forsythe, Mr. Tessier, Miss Delude and Miss Belanger. This was cleverly rendered. Other numbers included vocal selections by Miss Rose, Ella Ducharme and Scotch dances by Mrs. Forsythe and Miss Delude. Thomas Rochette directed the play and his efforts were crowned with success.

ISSUED BY HEAD OF LEGION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—In a message issued by Al. W. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, he set forth a program of public measures endorsed by the American Legion as calculated to assure continued integrity of American institutions and prosperity for the American people.

The list of objectives given in the message comprises: "Justice" for the 1,000,000 disabled war veterans; cultivation of loyal American citizenship through education and consequent physical development and instruction for the nation's youth; exclusion of immigrants for a period of years; restoration of army personnel to the minimum fixed by the defense act of 1920; adjustment of veterans' compensation and operation of the American Legion with the International Association of Allied Veterans of the World War in the effort to bring about a better understanding among civilized nations.

In referring to the disabled war veterans, Mr. Owsley said: "The legion asks for no charity for the disabled; the legion calls for justice, that is all. We call upon the nation to be mindful of its own."

De claring the American constitution the "most effective instrument yet devised for the expression of the will of all the people," Mr. Owsley pointed out that "equality of opportunity is a necessity of a free people" and that "equality of opportunity can only be arrived at through equal opportunity of education." He said that of the 25,000,000 children of school age in the United States, many millions do not attend school regularly and many are compelled to toil too young.

"Already the legion has effected legislation for compulsory school attendance," he continued, "and has assisted greatly in the enforcement of such legislation. We shall continue until child labor has been supplanted by child growth, development and study throughout the land. The legion has undertaken a campaign against illiteracy."

As to physical instruction for the young, Mr. Owsley said that "there must be measures adopted for adequate physical instruction and development of the youth of the country."

"There must be fresh air and sanitation in the cities," he said. "There must be parks and playgrounds; there must be adequate physical instruction in all the schools; and the legion is working to this end."

Discussing army personnel, the national commander declared, "the men of the legion are out of sympathy with the policy of economy that would cut out military defense below the safety line defined in the defense act of 1920."

Mr. Owsley asserted that it is the will of the American people that the war veterans be given an adjusted compensation and "they have expressed that will in no uncertain terms on every opportunity offered them."

"There is no shadow of doubt," he added, "of the coming of this national adjustment of compensation."

The message concluded with an appeal for all loyal Americans to give thanks for the benefits conferred upon them by their citizenship in this "free and mighty nation."

CHINESE RUBBANK

A "perfume grapefruit" is the latest innovation in the horticultural world. It has been developed by Lui Gin Gong, the 53-year-old Chinese Rubbank of Deland, Fla. This fruit hangs upon the tree for two or three years. When placed in a room it gives a lasting and pleasant perfume.

Girls! Aren't These Movie Proposals a Riot?

MARGORIE DAW, HEROINE OF "THE PRIDE OF PALOMAR"

By JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 27—These movie proposals are almost as amusing as the real things, aren't they, girls? Take, for instance, the proposal of Forrest Stanley to Margorie Daw in "The Pride of Palomar." There have been many others like it in the films.

The hero sits down beside the girl and says, "When I've made good I want to ask you something."

Now, honestly, girls, if the fellow were to say that to you and you were in love with him, wouldn't you collar him and ask him what in the world it was that he intended to ask you, even if you knew right away what he meant?

And, say, fellows, don't you think that a fellow who had enough confidence in himself to get $300,000 in a year or kill a dragon or do something of the kind would have enough nerve to propose to a girl as she would be able to give him a "yes" or "no" answer—I mean after he got up enough nerve to propose?

Peter K. Kye turned out a first-rate story when he wrote "Brothers Under the Skins." He wasn't preaching any of his own beliefs then. He was just telling a story.

In "The Pride of Palomar" he injects propaganda against the sale of land to Japanese. His personal prejudices run the story of logic.

In one episode he has two or three unnamed Americans get the best of twice their number of unnamed Japs. At another time he has the Jap village threaten to bring over the Japanese army to capture a California ranch.

It is the opinion of this humble writer that the United States could muster an army overnight that could overwhelm any army of invasion. On the other hand I believe any given number of Japanese men could get the better of an equal number of Americans in an unarmed set-to. The Japs know their Jiu-Jitsu.

Several other little things in "The Pride of Palomar" nettled me. The hero's right hand was too weak to cut his meat, but it was strong enough a few moments later to support his weight on the platform rail of a moving train.

He said the weakness of the hand was due to a "water thrust" he received in the recent war. I saw several thousand wounded members of the A.E.F., but not one of them was injured by a saber. Who carried sabers in the last war, anyway?

Early in the story the hero is reported killed in battle, but that was a mistake. During the story he is shot from his horse and left for dead. That was a mistake, too. That is overworking the idea to create suspense.

Despite these little inconsistencies, "The Pride of Palomar" is a passing fair film. I point out these little inconsistencies because they are characteristic of all the "passing fair" films, the movies that are just movies.

Frank Lloyd will take scenes in Auburn prison, the Tomb and New York always with Norma Talmadge for "Within the Law."

Mary Miles Minter has completed "Drums of Destiny." Her next will be from an original story by Hector Turnbull.

RESTING PLACE FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

The Central M.E. church, corner of Paige and John streets, co-operating with leading stores of the city, will throw open its doors to the general public during the "true season" for one week before the Christmas holiday. Women and children are especially invited to drop in and rest any time.

Rev. Leslie C. Rockes, pastor of the church, has interviewed leading store managers and has secured their co-operation. Among those who have promised their support are the A. G. Pollard Co., the Bon Marche, the Challifoux Co., Cherry & Webb, the Woolworth Co., the Kresge Co., and the Nelson Five and Ten Cent stores. They will advertise the rest room in their advertisements between now and the Christmas season. It is planned to have the vestry open between the hours of 1 and 7 p. m. during the week preceding the holidays.

In addition to the rest room facilities, it is planned to serve refreshments at the church between 5 and 7 o'clock on the nights that the church is open, the lunches to be served at cost. Miss Ruth Gates will be hostess in charge of the rest room. Couches and easy chairs will be provided for all visitors.

THE CONSOLIDATED TEXTILES

The movements of the woolen industries during the past six months have not been closely followed by investors, because everyone knows the woolen mills have been very busy, with plenty of orders ahead and no reduction of wages in the offing. The reported organization of a new textile corporation with ramified interests far and wide, and all practically under the control of President Wood of the American Woolen company, through the usual directorate system of management, brings to light the reasons for the recent rise in the strength of the Consolidated Textile stocks on the markets of the country.

On Tuesday when the rest of the stock market "familiars" were going to pieces quotation-wise, the Consolidated was on the upward bound and healthy in action. The reason for it was revealed the following day when it was learned that the corporation had some of the most prominent textile men in New England newly associated with its management, the men being William M. Wood and William M. Butler.

When this Consolidated concern was organized a few years ago as a merger of textile manufacturing plants, it was considered more or less in the light of a stock market proposition. That was in the boom days of 1919. Allan Ryan was then its market sponsor. In 1920 the stock sold up as high as $47.

The chief criticism of the company at that time was that, floated in so-called boom times, when profits were large, it was "over-capitalized." The company today is said to have a debt equal to something like $25 a spindle, ahead of the stock, though New England cotton mills in general carry their plants on their books at prices ranging from $7 to $15 a spindle.

Nevertheless, because men who know the New England textile game, have now entered the management of the Consolidated, with the Wood interests standing back of the associated corporate plants, it is suggested that in the future there will be something quite different from a mere stock market proposition. This new organization measures up to the size of some of the great industrial combines started after the McKinley tariff took effect and that finally were known as the great trusts of that period.

HARD COAL PROBLEMS

Cold weather has arrived and the supply of anthracite coal is just as scarce as it was in mild weather. There is no doubt whatever that a great many people in this state, as well as in other New England states, will suffer during the coming months for the lack of hard coal. It is the poorer class of people who have to depend upon anthracite for heating their homes, if they could use bituminous coal without difficulty.

In connection with this coal question, the fact comes up that the state of Pennsylvania is taxing the export of anthracite coal 1½ per cent of its value when ready for shipment. It seems that the state has been upheld in this course despite the fact that the constitution forbids the taxation of exports. Coal is one of the exports of the state of Pennsylvania and in imposing this tax, the state is discriminating against all the other states and using its position for preference purposes on the national products which should be controlled for the use of the entire nation.

There can be only two ways of settling this question. One is the nationalization of the coal mines, and the other to admit hard coal free of tariff duties and invite imports in opposition to the hard coal mines in Pennsylvania. The people of this country have already suffered enough from the selfish policy of the state of Pennsylvania in the matter of taxing the products of its anthracite mines. Pennsylvania should be made to feel that after all it is subordinate to the national government and that Congress can defeat its preferential course by adopting government ownership of the mines.

THE FEEBLE-MINDED

Announcement is made of the opening of Massachusetts' newest state school for the feeble-minded at Belchertown, by proclamation of Governor Cox. This school is another link in the institutional chain of similar organizations in care for this class of unfortunate in the Bay State. The need is great, we are informed. In fact many authorities on correctional institutions insist that there are not enough institutions of this kind to take care of the floating population that should be kept in such places for regular treatment and supervision. Men who know conditions, say the institutions now operated are wholly inadequate to care for the steadily increasing number of the feeble-minded—a problem that confronts the state with alarming possibilities each coming year. Reformatories are not the place for these unfortunate, although many so-called feeble-minded are kept there now. The institutions at Waverly and Wrentham have been fairly crowded for some time; and 260 boys have been transferred to the new Belchertown school. As a sample of what it is costing the taxpayers of Massachusetts to provide quarters for the care of this class of unfortunate, the Belchertown school represents an expenditure of more than $1,250,000. And more must be spent before all feeble-minded persons are adequately provided for. No wonder expert medical men and students of the human race declare that mankind is approaching a critical state of affairs with such institutions increasing all over the land and entrants always waiting to be taken in and treated because of their menace to normal humanity.

THE PRIMARY RESULTS

Now that the people have expressed their preference in regard to candidates for municipal office under Plan B, it remains to make a further selection from the list of nominees on election day. As usual, in primary elections under the present form of charter, there was a large number of candidates; and it must be said that from the long list of aspirants for the council and the school committee, the selections show fairly good judgment. It is true that some good men failed to secure the nomination and that a few perhaps less desirable have been nominated.

The chief interest, however, centered in the mayoralty contest and the people have decided that the present mayor, George H. Brown, and John J. Donovan shall be the contestants in the final election. Ex-Mayor Thompson and Jeremiah O'Sullivan, Esq., made a clean and honorable fight but failed to secure the vote necessary to overcome their opponents.

EDWARD AINSLEY SLEEPER

Many a man is born to cloistered fame, though he invents something that aids the whole world. The recent death of a man whose name is not widely known, we believe, recalls the invention of the plain tin-edged dust pan, so useful in every household, as every cleanly housewife knows.

Edward Ainsley Sleeper, native of Plaidston, N. H., passes on at the Old Men's home in Westville, N. H. This man perfected a dust pan with a tin edge that proved to be revolutionary in every way and an instant success when the pans were marketed. Though Sleeper accumulated a fortune, he won no fame because of his riches. He fought in the Civil war, but his name is not recorded on any rolls of honor, perhaps.

Because he made something a little better than someone else, the world made the proverbial "beaten path to his door," and there his fame rests with a useful household implement for his simple memorial.

FOR JOBLESS "VETS"

Col. Alvin W. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, believes that the best way for the Legion to serve the country is to obtain legislation to take care of all disabled ex-service men and to prevent unemployment. In a statement at Philadelphia on Monday last, the colonel says:

"I am appealing to the big business men of the country to make a special effort to see that no man who fought or served in the war is allowed to be hungry or cold."

The Owsley suggestion appears to be well taken. We believe many problems of this kind will be taken care of when the need of employment of these men, many of whom are able to perform work of various kinds, is brought to the attention of the country at large.

EASTERN SHOWING PROFIT

From Haverhill Wednesday came a rather glowing report of the public trustees controlling the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway division in the Shoe City. Mayor Standish has just received the monthly statement of the trustees for October for the Haverhill division only. It shows an actual profit of $2,526.17. The receipts were $37,181.19, with expenses of $34,655.02.

This is the second time this year the Haverhill division of the Eastern lines has shown a profit. The March statement disclosing about $1,000 balance on the right side.

When will the Lowell division show as good prospects for a return of some measure of old-time prosperity for the local Eastern lines as the Haverhill figures would lead us to believe, comparing them with figures of a year ago and even further back than that?

THE POSTAL RECEIPTS

Optimists are about equal when it comes to finding prosperity signs in the heavily increased local postal receipts. Lowell isn't the only city with glowing reports of larger business at its postal institution that attends to the mail distributions of the people. In Boston there has been a $200,000 increase in postal business this fall, with increases reported almost every day since the middle of November.

Postmaster Baker of Boston reports that postal receipts are actually running from 17 to 18 per cent higher than six months ago. The Lowell district, we are informed, is showing nearly the same percentage. Everything in this branch of the people's department of service, points to steadily advancing business.

Though we're striving toward the ideal, it sometimes seems we are making but little progress. We have the primary results—the informal ballot, as it were, for municipal offices and we have time enough to think over the qualifications of the various candidates.

If we can't have a merchant marina without subsidies, then we must pay the subsidies.

Lowell is face to face with a decision that may have far-reaching effects upon her future.

It was a glorious holiday and fittingly observed.

The "One Cheese" Party
The cry of "One Cheese" rings through the little republic of Andorra, perched high in the Pyrenees Mountains. The "One Cheese" party is opposed to the semi-annual tribute of two cheeses to the Bishop of Urgel, decreed by the Act of Passage, the Marana Charta of Andorra, written in 1258.

The "Chiffonier"
In a recent county court case one of the witnesses was a cabman who did not deny that he had "little love for the motor car." He raised a roar of laughter by describing the defendant chauffeur as a "chiffonier!" On repeating the blunder, he was pulled up by counsel for the defense. "Chauffeur, my friend, chauffeur!" corrected the latter. "A chiffonier, you know, is an ornamental wooden box." "O, well," interrupted the witness, with a nod in the direction of the chauffeur, "call him what you like. I dare say we're both pretty near the mark!"

Easy Weeds To Kill
The farmer and his hired man were sitting under the hedgehog taking cover from the rain and, incidentally, reading from their labors. The hired man was young and enthusiastic, and he was eager to ask knowledge. So he persistently asked questions. "Which weeds are the easiest to kill?" he inquired. The farmer gazed at him slowly. "Weeds?" he replied. "Weeds? You've only to say 'well then?' to them and they will die."

Reading about the two little English girls who, according to Conan Doyle, discovered real fairies in the woods we were reminded of another child because he was so different. Robert, the second son of a scientific man, had lived in the country most of his short life. One day a visitor, wishing to make friends with the little fellow, took him on his knee and asked: "Are there any fairies in your woods here, Robert?" "No," responded the child promptly, "but there are plenty of edible fungi!"

A Thought
This is the gospel of labor—
"Ting it, ye bells of the kirk!"
The lord of lava came down from above
To live with the men who work.
This is the road he planted
Here in the dawn of the soft;
Heaven is lit with perfect rest,
But the blessing of the earth is toll.
—HENRY VAN DYKE.

Are They Mythical
Reading proverbs, I must strive
To be wise to what they mean;
They read to beasts that I've Never seen.

Wolves, for instance, by my gun
Have been slaughtered by the score.
But I've never yet seen one
At the door.

Here's a second case where I Must acknowledge disappointment—
I have never seen a fly
In the omnibus.

And, although it seems to be Very common, yet I fear
I have never had a flea
In my ear.

Then again, though my endeavor
Is to make experience full,
In a china shop I have never Seen a bull.

And the fact appears to me
Curious, as I muse upon it—
I have never had a bee
In my bonnet!

I have never seen a hog
On the ice, and what is stranger,
I have never seen a dog
In the manger.

All these wise old saws must prove Simple minus fakes, I feel sure.
Full of bonnie that I've and you've Never seen!

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

We are glad to see various fraternal organizations aiding sick and disabled war veterans, members of the American Legion and similar organizations who deserve assistance at this time of the year.

Some creditability has been expressed over reported conditions at the Parker Hill district, where numerous veterans are being given hospital care. It was reported some time ago that the Elks' hospital there, supported by B.P.O.E. organization funds, paying all expenses, all Parker Hill was soon to be closed. The Massachusetts Association of Disabled Veterans of the World war informs us that it is making a strenuous effort to keep this hospital where it is, hoping to have it kept open indefinitely as a convalescent station for former soldiers.

The B.P.O.E. we are informed, declares through its high officials that it is ready at all times to stand sponsor for the carrying on of the hospital. In regard to the reported closing, Elks' National headquarters state that the organization gave the hospital to the government to be used for the treatment of crippled soldiers as long as desired for that purpose.

It would seem with the government getting a beneficial equipment of this kind without charge, that it ought to do its part in supporting and carrying on the work so very necessary at this time as the veterans' bureau have so often shown.

No worthy cause deserving the support of warm-hearted Lowell citizens is denied in need of aid at this time of the year than St. Peter's orphanage on Stevens street. Donations of food and clothing and other useful articles, are solicited from friends old and new. This is the time of the year when warmer clothing is needed—when supplies of various kinds are desired to carry on the work at this splendid institution that cares for so many little children. The demands this year are still great, the number of children larger than in some other years, and it is hoped by the kindly supervisors of this noble institution that donations this year will be larger than ever before. It was announced this morning that all donations should be made this week before Saturday evening, if possible.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem STREETS

You like straight streets that are meted and paved
And lead to a definite place,
Trim, regular streets that are well behaved
And easy to map and trace.
They lead from home to your daily job
And back to your home again,
Broad streets worn smooth by a humdrum mob
Of patiently plodding men.

But I like streets that are queer and quaint,
That lead—well, I know not where;
That dwindle at length to a trail that's faint,
Where the wandering pilgrims fare.
You like the streets where you can't get lost,
I'm fond of them where I can,
The wavering aimless roads, unbossed
By the "practical paving man."

You like the streets that from end to end
Are old and familiar ways,
I love the by-ways that wind and wind
Till lost in the distant haze;
So keep to your street that is straight and true,
A carefully measured track,
And I'll light-heartedly follow mine,
All over the world and back!

French Army Officers Coming to U. S.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The chamber of deputies today approved an amendment proposed by its military committee appropriating $300,000 francs to "send a mission of five officers to America" for the purpose of advancing good relations. No specific countries in either North or South America were mentioned.

FARMERS BALL AND CHARACTER PARTY

The town hall in North Chelmsford was the scene of a farmers' ball and character party. Thanksgiving eve. The affair was given under the auspices of Court Wauwanchett, M.C.O.M. The hall was decorated for the occasion, the attendance was large and the program was very enjoyable.

In the early part of the evening there was a grand march and later prizes were awarded by the judges as follows: Most attractive costume, Miss Mary Welch and Marjorie Rousseau, who impersonated Martha and George Morris.

Washington; best looking farmer and farmerette, Mr. and Mrs. Walter McMahon; funniest costumes, Mrs. Henry O. Miller as Santa Claus and Charles Donaldson, typical country boy.

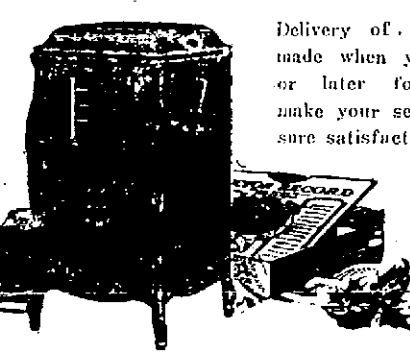

At the close of the grand march general dancing was started and continued till a reasonable hour, refreshments being served in the lower hall during intermission.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Misses Mary K. Daley, Mary Welch, Agnes Hogan, Margaret McManis, Helen Welch and George Murphy. The judges were William Clifford, Dan O'Brien and George Morris.

The "always necessary Odd Skirt for the new Sports Sweater or the extra Suit Jacket—comes now in a particularly satisfying version of the always popular Plaid, Striped Brunella—or smartly subdued Plaid. Satisfying because the material is of a quality that will wear and wear and wear—because the tailoring is honest, painstaking, durable. Satisfying because the Color Patterns are new and always harmonious. A special group assembled for this sale. Specially Priced—and well worth trying Cheerful new Tailored Dimities—well made—trim and youthful. Peter Pan or Roll Collars, and Turnover Cuffs—make them the indispensable complement to the Sports Skirt and Sweater, or the Tailored Suit. Striped and Crossbar patterns; buttons up the back or front; embroidered collars; tiny lace edgings; fluted ruffle finish; all the little details that go into the making of the trimly Tailored Blouse are seen—so that you may have to take two or more to settle the question in your mind as to which of them is the very prettiest. And—the price helps along, too, doesn't it? These Blouses look as if they should cost (as indeed they should) considerable more.

Slip-on Sweaters are distinctly an American contribution to the language of Sports Wear—and they have very evidently come to stay—for the American woman wears nothing more becoming in the way of Practical, Workaday, or Playaday Dress. The models in this Special Group are of Mohair, all wool, with V or round necks, neatly finished shoulders and cuffs, and knitted in a straight up and down weave that adapts itself so well to this type of Sweater. Woolly enough for warmth—and light enough to wear with perfect comfort under Suit Jacket or Top Coat. In all the wanted Fall Shades, including Silver Gray and the so-becoming light Tan or Beige.

DAYS OF BREADLINE RETURN

The out-of-work and the needy are many in New York despite reports that unemployment is at a low ebb. This breadline conducted at Cherry street, New York, finds its offerings in increased demand at this season.

AGAINST INHUMAN ANIMAL TREATMENT

CHICAGO, Dec. 1.—Twelve thousand Illinois men have been commissioned as special constables in one of the most highly organized anti-cruelty societies in the United States.

Formed four years ago, as the department of constabulary of the state society for prevention of cruelty and apprehension of horse and automobile thieves, the organization has extended into every county, and is now branching out in Indiana and Wisconsin under similar laws. There are already nearly a thousand members in each of those states.

Organized along semi-military lines, the constabulary forms an adjunct to the regular, paid, peace officers, ready to assist in any emergency, or to take charge in the absence of the regular authorities.

While the original purpose of the movement was to prevent cruelty and track horse and automobile thieves, the department now maintains automobile patrols, operates a special intelligence service to ferret out vice, gambling, bootlegging and other offenses, and furnishes men to keep order at fires and in other emergencies.

Among the cases brought by the constabulary, and now pending in Chicago courts, is one in which a large teaming contractor is accused of underfeeding 500 horses. As a result of the society's work, according to Walter P. Stuart, general superintendent of constabulary, diseased, overworked and underfed horses have practically been eliminated from Chicago.

The constabulary has a troop in every police precinct in Chicago, several in the outlying townships, and a troop in each downstate county, a total of 153 troops.

The maximum strength of each troop is one captain, four first lieutenants, sixteen second lieutenants and 224 constables. In addition there is an inspector commanding each of the twenty divisions into which the state has been divided, and a county superintendent of the society in each county.

CELEBRATED THEIR PEARL WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Weinbeck last night celebrated the thirtieth anniversary of their wedding at their home, 192 Westworth avenue, with an informal reception attended by a large number of friends who offered sincere congratulations and best wishes.

An excellent program of music entertained the guests and principals in the anniversary celebration, and light refreshments were served. The happy couple received numerous gifts from friends of many years.

The anniversary served also as a family gathering of the Weinbeck clan, all children of the principals being present with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. Charles F. Woodcock of Indianapolis. Other daughters now married who were present accompanied by their husbands were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Tufts, Jr., of Exeter, N. H.; Mr. and Mrs. Roy H. Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Austin M. Darby of Lowell, and John Weinbeck, Jr., and Miss Alice Weinbeck of Lowell; also three grandchildren. Among the friends present were Miss Geneva A. Perry of Westboro and Miss Ellen A. Stillings of this city.

Mr. Weinbeck was born in Eastport, Me., in 1861, coming to this city early in life. He first entered the undertaking business with Mr. Brooks, well known for many years on Prescott street. Later he went to the undertaking establishment of Chamberlain, and after that opened a business establishment of his own where he is now located on Middlesex street. He has been engaged in his present calling for 37 years.

Mrs. Weinbeck is a native of this city, was educated here and became the bride of the Lowell undertaker on Nov. 30, 1892. Rev. Ransom B. Greene, then pastor of the Grace Universalist church, and Rev. George Howard, pastor of the Fifth Street Free Baptist church, officiating.

CHURCHES HOLD UNION SERVICES

Eight downtown churches united yesterday morning for a Thanksgiving day service at the Westminster Presbyterian church. The sermon was preached by Rev. Edward B. Brown of the First Baptist, his subject being "A National Thanksgiving." He stressed America's leadership in world affairs as being possible because of well-founded ideals, built primarily upon religious standards. It was head-erabled to continue the country must return to these ideals and maintain a personal relationship with God.

The churches participating in addition to the Westminster were the First Baptist, St. Paul's Methodist, First Universalist, First Presbyterian, First Union, Gorham Street P. M., and Immanuel Baptist.

THANKSGIVING PARTY

The young people of the Unitarian church of Chelmsford conducted their annual Thanksgiving party in the church vestry last evening. There was a large attendance and all spent a most enjoyable evening. Concert numbers were given by the Lowell Masons, for a choir and general dancing was enjoyed till a sonorous hour, refreshments being served during intermission. Harry Priestley acted as a floor director and the committee on arrangements was as follows:

Mrs. A. L. Harmon, Mrs. C. A. Dangle, William H. Hall, Albert A. Luntz, E. J. MacPherson, Ross A. Hatch, Mrs. T. Simpson, and Mrs. Prudence Day. The music was arranged by Walter Perham, S. Foster Whipple and Mrs. Karl M. Perham. Miss Barbara Ackhurst, a committee were responsible for the decorations. Refreshments were served at intermission. Mrs. B. B. Emerson, Miss Martha E. Winton and Miss Ruth Emerson being in charge. The following acted as matrons: Mrs. W. H. Hall, Mrs. L. J. Parkhurst, Mrs. H. L. Parkhurst, Mrs. A. M. Warren and

MISSING GIRL LOCATED

Through the efforts of the Lowell police department, Mary Esther Landry, 13-year-old, Tynsboro girl who had been missing from her home since November 17, was located yesterday in a lodging house in Middlesex street. She was living with a girl friend who agreed to take her home with her. Her mother immediately notified the police.

You'll Have to Hurry—or You'll Miss this Great Opportunity

IT'S the one great opportunity of a lifetime—To buy a high grade Playerpiano for very little money. But you'll have to hurry—or you'll miss this great opportunity. Now, it's a matter of days. The end of our great Music Festival draws near. Soon, it will be too late. Come in tomorrow and see what you can do with a few dollars. These are wonderful values for very little money.

They are not ordinary playerpianos. They are instruments of rare excellence and musical quality. Many of them have the enviable distinction of having been endorsed by the leaders of our musical profession—by our captains of industry—by our great statesmen. Musicians—music critics—many of our leading citizens own and heartily endorse these great instruments. Will you profit by their knowledge of values?

Music—a Playerpiano—will encourage more smiles—create more happiness—than any other single thing you can give your family.

With a player in your home, you can play nursery rhymes for the baby—inspiring marches—amusing folk songs for the children. Sparkling dance music for the young folks. Or, if you prefer, the best music from all the great operas—and, when you are in the mood, comforting sacred music.

Mother especially will appreciate music—it will lift a world of worries and cares from her shoulders. Imagine the children gathered around the player while she plays her old favorite ballads. Perhaps "Love's Old Sweet Song"—"The Sweetest Story Ever Told"—"Angel's Serenade"—or a hundred other gems that you never knew could be played so beautifully on the Playerpiano.

Your Great Opportunity If You Act At Once For just a few days more, you can buy—at a great saving—the instrument that will bring all this happiness into your home. You have wanted music. Why not decide to have it now?

Many dollars saved will reward you for acting promptly. A few choice instruments are left—but they are going fast. You'll have to act quickly to take advantage of these great values.

Tomorrow is the last day. You'll regret it all your life if you let this opportunity pass by

WHAT ARE RADIO LIMITS?

Range of Transmission is Sought for Interference Cure

WHAT ARE RADIO LIMITS?

When the air is filled with crisscrossing messages and thousands of operators are "pounding the key," how with they be able to tell one from the other?

This is the practical question for the present. This difficulty arises from the little knowledge we have as yet concerning the definite limits of radio transmission, especially as regards the wave lengths. For the present the lowest wave length in use is about 150 to 200 meters, to which amateurs are confined. That, according to scientists, is the practical low limit for radio transmission.

But how far we can go above this is still to be discovered. And when that is definitely known, it will be practicable to divide the total range of transmission, and it is estimated for individual purposes.

Definite Ranges

For example, it is finally decided that 500,000 meters is the highest practicable wave length for any kind of transmission, and it is estimated there will be a demand for 1,000,000 transmission licenses at any one time, then allotments may be made by which each operator is allowed half a meter wave length in the Omaha definite measurement. Thus, if all operators stuck to their allotments and did not exceed the bounds of their range, every one of them could use the air at the same time without experiencing any interference.

What the highest possible limit is, is a matter of conjecture at present and one of study for radio engineers. The highest wave length in practical use today is 25,000 meters, the high limit for secret naval communication. Commercial companies use wave lengths of 1500 to 1600 meters, while government stations send out public reports on wave lengths of 2500 or 3000 meters.

Scientists Experimenting

Experiments are being pursued toward the practicability in use of much higher wave lengths. In Omaha, Dr. Frederick M. Millener and Harvey Gamer have a receiving set with which they say they could hear messages sent out on a wave length of 500,000 meters. Marconi, the famous wireless inventor, had a powerful receiving set on his yacht, Elettra, with which he reported having received a wireless impulse on a wave length of about 500,000 meters.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

One simply can't help enjoying the latest Tom Mix picture, "Just Tony." Not so much because of Mix himself, as his good, old horse, Tony. This animal is the subject about which the author has woven a decidedly interesting yarn of the west. Don't miss it. Miss Corinne Griffith in "A Woman's Sacrifice" is a story of the north land and it's several degrees superior to many of the other big successes that had held people there. The comedy and Weekly are great.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

Another one of those high-class programs has been arranged by Manager Torgan at The Strand for Sunday. Look it over and judge for yourself. The vaudeville program will be headed by the famous Pica Melody Maids and there will be four other high-grade acts. There will be an entire change of pictures with Constance Talmadge in one of her brightest successes, "Scandal," in the lead. You couldn't ask for anything much superior to that. Get in early and avoid the crush.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The closing days of the big bill at the Keith theatre will undoubtedly bring big audiences to greet the unique show. With George Hollander, Billy Kelly & Co. in "Bringing Home the Christmas Tree" and a headliner, one is assured of real comedy pleasure. The amazing work of the Muses Moody and Duncan in "Opera and Jazz, Inc." is sure to please, while the stupendous stepness of the year are the Dixie Four. These youngsters are alive every minute. The recital given by the Four Rubini Sisters cannot fail to win approval, and the dancing and singing of Jeanette Childs, the Joy Girl, is liked very much. Then there is McSovereign, the master diabolist player, with Reddington & Grant offering a tramp-comic novelty known as "Bounce Inn."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Large and delighted audiences throughout enjoyed a unique musical comedy, "Oh, Joy," with Harry Ingalls, "Checker Girls," upon its initial presentation yesterday afternoon and evening at the Lowell Opera House. The revue proved to be an entertaining feature throughout, the "Checker Girls" appearing in beauty formation with lively songs and dances. There is an attractive display of gay costumes and stage settings, also, many bringing new novelties to Lowell. The Ingalls production is one of the best that has appeared at the Opera House this season. For interesting variety, music and dancing, the aggregation has few equals on the New England show circuit.

A feature of the opening performances yesterday was the music, all numbers being well presented and the leading members of the company showing considerable talent. Of course the offering would not be complete without a real chorus, and the one with the "Checker Girls" show proved

IDENT AND GIRL LOSE LIVES IN AUTO CRASH

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 1.—Miss Decker, aged 23 years, of Lincoln, was instantly killed, when the automobile in which they were riding with two other student couples was demolished early yesterday morning in East Providence. Miss Decker was dead at the Rhode Island hospital. George R. Decker, aged 21 years, a senior at Brown, brother of the dead man and the driver of the car, Robert E. Pellman, aged 21 years, another senior and a member of the varsity football squad at that university, Miss Irene Coy, Boston, and Miss Lucille Burroughs of Warren, Mass., the latter two both classmates of Miss Decker at the New England Conservatory of Music, were the other occupants of the car, who escaped with slight cuts and bruises and a bad shaking up.

The car was started upon at an early hour yesterday morning following a dance held at Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity house in this city. The accident is ascribed to George Decker's unfamiliarity with the road and the belief that having to turn fast to negotiate the sharp turn at the junction of the two streets where the crash occurred. The car is said to have skidded and crashed into trees and poles at the side of the road.

Told Her of Murder

Toucheffe, grappled with him after Gullbault had covered the grocer with a revolver and demanded his money and that in the struggle Toucheffe, who was a burly man, seized him by the neck and jammed him against a post.

She said that Gullbault claimed that Toucheffe shot at him first and that he fired twice after the grocer had fired one bullet at him. Gullbault told her she said, that after Toucheffe had been shot, the young man ran from the scene and later took her to the dance at Silver Lake, the couple going there on the trolley cars.

HAD ATTACK ONLY BLOCK FROM HOME

Among the thousands of Connecticut people who are praising Tanlac for their return to health, strength and happiness is Mrs. E. M. Stercks, 91 Henry street, New Haven. Mrs. Stercks recently said:

"There isn't a doubt in my mind but what Tanlac has prolonged my life and I don't believe it has an equal in the world. For two years past I have suffered from stomach trouble in its worst form. My appetite left me entirely and when I did eat a little something I would just suffer agony from gas pains, bloating and heartburn. I also suffered from sick headaches and dizzy spells. One day I went to the store to do some shopping and got so dizzy I thought I would fall on the street. I certainly felt thankful that I was only a block away from home.

"My nerves were so shattered that a good night's sleep was out of the question and as I continued to get worse my case seemed hopeless. I have taken three bottles of Tanlac now and, thank heaven, I am a well woman. I haven't a sign of my old troubles and eat and sleep like a child. My mother and daughter, Myrtle, are now taking Tanlac with fine results. It certainly is a grand medicine."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

While at the dance a man told Gullbault that Toucheffe had been shot and later he learned that the grocer was dead.

Wednesday night, Miss Martin stated to the police, after the dance Gullbault stayed at her home. She did not let him go home because she was afraid the police might pick him up. He told her he would never be taken alive.

Gullbault's father and mother wanted him home yesterday for Thanksgiving dinner and Miss Martin accompanied him there. While they were awaiting the preparation of the dinner, Gullbault, she stated, looked out of the window and saw police officers and others about the house and jumped out of the window, carrying the sack, and made his escape.

The police are scouring the vicinity of Gullbault's home and watching the homes of relatives where it is believed the fugitive may seek a hiding place. The police this morning learned that Gullbault has in his possession two revolvers and an ample supply of ammunition.

MEMORIAL MASS IN ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

About 200 members of Clan Na Gael and the Irish National Brotherhood attended memorial mass for deceased members in St. Patrick's church at 9 o'clock yesterday morning. Rev. John J. McGarry, D. C. L., celebrated the mass. At the conclusion of the services, the members repaired to A.O.U.H. hall, Middle street, where an enthusiastic meeting was held. Among the speakers were Daniel J. Murphy, Stephen Flynn and Patrick Mahoney, the latter being chairman on arrangements for yesterday's services. A splendid musical program, consisting of old and new Irish airs, was carried out, followed by a discussion of Irish affairs of moment.

There will be a meeting tonight of the general committee in charge of the carnival to be conducted in Associate hall under liberal auspices on the evenings of January 15, 16, 17 and 18. At tonight's meeting, further arrangements for the big event will be made. The reports of the various committees made thus far show everything to be progressing satisfactorily. Division II has organized an active committee consisting of Joseph Garrity, chairman; John Fatty, treasurer, and John Mealey, secretary. The other divisions, I and 3, have also started soliciting funds and will award special prizes to the holders of the lucky number on the tickets disposed of by their representatives.

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 1.—Though actual figures are withheld pending submission to the Trolleyman's association meeting tonight, both officers of the association and of the Springfield Street Railway company, stated today that the wage scale compromise reached in recent conference in Boston to take effect Jan. 1, was entirely satisfactory both to company and union officials.

CHARACTER PARTY IN LINCOLN HALL

Lincoln hall was the scene of a party gathering Wednesday evening, the occasion being the first annual character party under the auspices of the Hub Hosiery girls. There were over 300 couples in attendance, most of whom were attired in all kinds of costumes. The hall was beautifully decorated with paper streamers of various colors, the predominant color scheme being yellow and black.

So successful was the affair that the organizers are not only planning to make the event an annual one, but they are also planning to form a permanent organization among the employees of the Hub Hosiery mills in Middle street, the purpose and aim of which will be to promote the social welfare of the men and women by the company and in their endeavors they have the full support of the superintendent, Emil Feudel.

The first number on Wednesday evening's program was a grand march at the close of which prizes were awarded as follows: First, special prize, a $5 pair of shoes donated by Emilio Borden of the 20th Century shoe store, for best appearing costume, Miss Adrienne Smith; first lady's prize, Mrs. Rose Patenaude; second, Miss Josephine Adamowski; first gentleman's, Frank Douville; second, Wilfrid Laurin; first lady's, comic, Miss Rosa Christman; first gentleman's, Fred Beauchessne. The judges were Emilio Borden, Philippe Roy, Adhemard Smith, Herve Lamoureux, A. Desjardes.

During intermission refreshments were served and at the close of the evening favors were distributed. The officers of the evening were as follows: Emilio Trudel, general manager; George Belleville, assistant; Leo Cayer, floor marshal; Peter Bisson, assistant; George Belleville, floor director; Miss Alice Traveray, assistant; Mrs. Eugenie Douville, treasurer; Miss Len Martel, secretary; Oscar Palm-chaud, chief aid; Miss Albina Caron, aid.

The various committees responsible for the success of the affair were as follows: Miss Alice Traveray, Miss Eva E. Leader, R.N.; Miss Elsie Silva, printing; Peter Bisson, George Coyette, Raymond Lirette and Joseph Carpenter, checking; Leo Cayer, Louis Jodoin, Miss Rosa Patenaude, Miss Regina Bourgeois, Miss Anna Warda, Miss Lina Cheeswick, Miss Corinne Coulombe, Miss Christina Vassily, Miss Rose Good, Miss Albina Carpenter, Miss Blanche Desmarais, Miss Gertrude Beauchessne and Miss Yvonne Fontaine, refreshments.

JUDGE'S HOME FIRED

WOBURN, Dec. 1.—The home of Judge John J. McGuire of the Woburn district court was gutted by fire early yesterday, endangering the lives of the judge, his son, W. Frank, and the latter's family, and forcing them to flee in their night clothes through the snow to the homes of friends. Police last night expressed belief that the fire was of incendiary origin and set by revengeful moonshiners as there had been an unusual number of these cases before Judge McGuire recently.

O. M. I. CADETS DEFEAT
BILLERICA WILDCATS

With a wet and slippery ball on a wetter and more slippery field, the O.M.I. Cadets defeated the North Billerica Wildcats on the North common yesterday afternoon by the score of 14 to 0. The Cadets were originally scheduled to play the Concord North team but the Minute Men failed to put in an appearance and the last minute substitution followed. The O'Connor company completely outclassed the Wildcats and was only prevented from piling up a much larger total by the soggy condition of the playing area.

To balance the sides as much as possible, Dan Coughlin of the Belvideres of Lowell donned a Wildcat uniform in the third period, but like the others on the field, he could not get started because of the mud. The Cadets used the forward pass effectively and gained much ground in this manner. D. O'Connor to D. Crowe being the usual route of the leather in the air. Capt. O'Connor scored both touchdowns for the Cadets and kicked the goal after each. The lineup and summary:

CADETS: WILDCATS
Curran ls. Dolan
Payton, Eagan ls. Barton
Brouder ls. Condon
O'Brien c. Boswell

CONG. MANN OF ILLINOIS,
G. O. P. LEADER, DEAD

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Death last night ended the legislative career of Representative James R. Mann, republican, of the second Illinois district, long rated as a giant of the house. He was 66 years old.

Returning here two weeks ago for the opening of the special session of congress, Mr. Mann, who had served his people for upwards of a quarter of a century, took part in the preliminary work of the house. A week ago, however, he was forced to stay at home because of a cold, which he failed to shake off. His condition at first was not regarded as serious, and it was not until yesterday afternoon after pneumonia had developed, that it became alarming. Early in the evening, he rallied, but there was a change for the worse as the night

8 ON SIDEWALK HIT BY SPEEDING AUTO

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 1.—Eight pedestrians were hurt, three seriously, yesterday afternoon, when a large touring car, owned by Louis Rouillas of this city, and driven by Peter J. Tsiknas, drove at full speed upon the sidewalk at the corner of Hanover and Elm streets, the city's most crowded spot in the business section. Before the car could be stopped, the eight people had been swept into the street, and one woman was so crushed beneath the machine that it was some time before she could be extricated.

Tsiknas was held at the police station on the charge of reckless driving.

Shortly before midnight with his wife and his physicians at his bedside, the veteran of many a congressional battle, died peacefully.

downtown streets before proceeding to the hall to voice their adverse sentiments against the city government. These protests were reinforced along the route and when the municipal building was reached the crowd numbered more than 2000 persons.

2000 Storm Building
Yelling invectives against the aldermen, the mob gave emphasis to its words by hurling stones and other missiles. Then one leader suggested that the hall be entered and the demonstrators made a concerted rush forward. The police guards fired the rifles over the heads of the crowd which, however, did not check its course. When it became apparent that the mob would enter the building despite the police, the latter aimed their rifles point blank and fired with deadly effect.

Straggled by the bullets the demonstrators retired, carrying with them their dead and injured.

Set Fire to Hall
But in half an hour they returned and several of their number, breaking window, entered the hall and began to set fire to its contents. Valuable documents, some of which dated back several centuries, were tossed into the streets and the city records were given to the winds.

By this time the federal troops had arrived, but the intruders were not ejected before the building had been fired in many places and the furniture wrecked.

Several sporadic attempts to continue the demonstration were made in the succeeding hours, but when the demonstrators returned to the attack, they found a cordon of several hundred soldiers about the building and contented themselves with jeering and hooting officials in general, including some of the members of the federal government.

President Obregon declined to comment on the affair until he had received the official report.

THE PLAY THAT WON FOR HARVARD

George Owen, Crimson halfback, and star of this year's football classic, is at the bottom of the pile scoring the only touchdown in the Harvard-Yale game at New Haven. After running 65 yards through a broken field to the Yale five-yard line Owen was downed. Three plunges brought the ball to the Yale one-yard line. Then, Captain Buell entered the game. He is shown standing on the five-yard line. With Yale expecting a forward pass or drop kick, Buell crossed them and sent Owen through center for the touchdown.

CLINTON BEATS JULIAN LOWELL POLOISTS WIN FAST BASKETBALL GAME

New Yorker Lands Decision Over Aggressive Brocktonian in Fine Bout

Johnny Clinton of New York won the decision over Tony Julian of Brockton after ten hectic rounds of battling in the feature event of the Moody club card at the Crescent rink yesterday afternoon.

The bout was one of the most satisfactory of the season, with action crowded into every second of the forty minutes. The pug got down to business at the tap of the first gong and as the rounds were told they continued their whirlwind endeavor to the delight of those assembled around the ring.

Clinton is a master boxer and his cleverness and generalship brought him the verdict. Julian is an aggressive, two-handed brawler, who carries a stiff wallop. He hores in and hammers away and a less skillful boxer than Clinton would have had difficulty in evading his furious attacks. Many times when Julian would get inside Clinton's guard and open up an incessant body attack the New Yorker would shake him off and let go a series of stiff blows.

The bout was a fight all the way and while Clinton was clearly entitled to the ward, Julian gave him a bitter tussle, and the classy work of both performers brought vigorous applause from the fans.

Billie Blackie of Boston, formerly of Halifax, and Jack Dempsey of Nashua, were the principals in the semi-final. It opened up like a real number, with the first round being replete with action and some good hitting. Blackie had the advantage. In the second round after about one minute of fighting Dempsey went down. Those at the ringside said no blow had been struck to produce the canvas visit. The referee slowly counted, and at nine Dempsey got up. He closed in on Blackie, but the latter pushed him away and down went Dempsey for a second time. So convinced was referee Cooper that the Nashua boxer was trying to quit that he refused to give him a count. He pulled Dempsey up and sent him to his corner holding Blackie as the victor. The fans voiced their disapproval of Dempsey's actions in no uncertain manner.

The prelims were good. Johnny Gray of Nashua won the decision over Sator Joe Major of the U. S. North Dakota, after six peppery rounds. Eddie Pucell and Jimmy McElroy, local boys appeared in the first bout, which went the distance, six rounds to a well earned decision for Pucell.

AVILA WANTS TO BOX MARTIN FLAHERTY, JR.

Johnny Avila, local welterweight, returned from a trip to New York, where he fought Felix King, a famous fighter, King outwitted Johnny by 14 pounds, and despite this handicap, the Lowell boy had the better of the first five rounds, when the weight began to tell. King made a strong finish and received the decision. Matchmaker O'Connor of the Paper City A.C. tried to rematch King and Avila, but King has not signified any willingness to make reasonable weight.

Avila has decided to take boxing seriously from now on, and is going to keep right on training. There is nothing that would please him more than to get Martin Flaaherty, Jr. into the ring with him. He thinks that Flaaherty has had a lot of soft picking in his recent battles in Lowell, and says it is about time that he would take on someone that will make him extend himself. "I am the one to do it," says Johnny, "and the boxing fans of Lowell will shout for a battle like this. So let Flaaherty come out of his shell and do some real fighting."

WITHINGTON MAKES DENIAL
CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—Lodrop Withington, member of the Harvard advisory football committee, in a letter to the Harvard University Bulletin, made public today, gives his version of what he said at the Princeton dinner in Boston on the night before the Harvard-Princeton game of Nov. 11. He asserts that the Bulletin misquoted him and denies that he intimated that Harvard might give up football games with Princeton.

OPEN SEASON ON DEER NEXT WEEK

The law is off on deer next week.

In recent years Massachusetts has been extremely fortunate in the matter of fatalities being very few and far between during the annual open season on deer. Game officials of Lowell and vicinity, including Chelsea, are now spreading warnings among the hunters of the county in anticipation of the season which begins at sunrise Monday next and extends to sunset on the following Saturday.

While Bay State hunters are not going out "under wraps" this year, they may consider themselves a little luckier than some of their friends in other states, for in many of the latter it is positively dangerous to go into the woods during the open season on deer. Death generally lurks behind every—or nearly every—tree and brush. Considerable propaganda has gone out this year to try and end the tragedy stories.

Now has been predicted, and if it comes seekers of the foot-foot deer will go into the wild sections of the state Monday morning greatly pleased.

Last year the number of kills in Massachusetts exceeded 400, but the abundance of deer this year indicates that this figure will be greatly increased if good trailing conditions prevail.

6000 SEE LAWRENCE HIGH BEAT LOWELL, 12 TO 0

Great Crowd in O'Sullivan Park, Lawrence, For Annual Gridiron Classic—Local Team Put Up Game Battle Forced to Bow to Superior Team

As a fitting finale to its most successful gridiron season in recent years, the Lawrence high school football team met and defeated the Lowell high eleven at O'Sullivan park, Lawrence, yesterday morning, and went home to a Thanksgiving day dinner with an appetizing 12 to 0 victory over the fighting Red and Gray of Lowell. The victors clearly displayed their superiority over the Spindie City team by registering two well earned touchdowns while Lowell was held in check all during the game and never allowed to come within threatening distance of the down-rivermen's goal. Although fighting every inch of the way, the Lowell crew had no sustaining power of attack and were forced to succumb to the mighty rushes of the Lawrence side. Both sides fought hard to win and while the "never say die" spirit of the local representatives was demonstrated to the fullest extent, the better team won.

Over 6000 Present
The annual classic attracted the biggest crowd ever over 6000 spectators being present, and nearly half of that number from Lowell. The school cheering sections, Lowell on the one side and Lawrence on the other, entered into a merry competition as to variety and volume of cheers and the organized greetings and applause reverberated throughout the cheering at given intervals. Lowell's cheering was the best in years, but to the Lawrence students met the cheers of the Lawrence side in this department. Their snake dance in token of victory at the conclusion of the game was wonderful to behold and not only the long line of march had reached the Lawrence city hall did the ranks disband.

But to get back to the game. It would be a rarity for any team to win a football game when it makes only two first downs. That is just what Lowell did, and those came in the last period of play when the game was safely tucked away in the records of Lawrence high. It cannot be said that Lowell lost the game because she did not take advantage of opportunities. She didn't have opportunities because the opposition did not present them. For the greater part of the game the ball was in Lowell territory, forcing Willard, fullback, to punt on the second and third downs. To attempt a rush through the line was futile, the Lawrence frontier in Higgins made up for it with a beautiful 15-yard jaunt around Lowell's right end. He was stopped by Kierce who made a pretty tackle. At the time only one Lowell man remained between the line and Higgins and the Lowell goal post. Cronin kicked off 5 yards through the line. Lowell was not holding tightly enough, and Lawrence took the ball to Lowell's 30-yard stripe where Tappan threw Kennedy by a wonderful tackle. Lawrence then lost the ball on downs, and Lowell unable to advance by straight rushing tactics, booted back. Smith immediately got away to an 8-yard gain and Kennedy made first down on Lowell's 42-yard line.

Cronin Makes 25-yard Run

At this point Cronin was given the ball and continued on a merry race of 25 yards before being tackled by Chase. On another long run Smith placed the ball on the 7-yard mark and in good position to score, but a fumble by Cronin on the next play gave Lowell the ball and relayed the lead and Gray of a ticklish situation. Kierce made four yards at center, but a five yard penalty for being off side brought the ball back to its original position the 10-yard mark, where Willard, fullback, field judge, Tower, Andover, Bowdoin, field judge, Tower, Andover, head line man, Sherlock, Boston.

Lawrence Scores
Davis gained 3 yards and Lowell started down the field only to be penalized 15 yards for off-side playing. This again forced Willard to punt. Kierce getting down under the ball like a flash and tackling Higgins on Lowell's 39-yard mark. A successful forward pass, Higgins to Twomey, started Lawrence forward. This was followed up with a second successful pass, O'Neill to Higgins which gave Lawrence a first down on the 10-yard line. O'Neill advanced the ball to the four yard stripe and Kennedy plunged over for the first score. Higgins failed to kick the goal.

The second half of the game opened with Lowell kicking off to Lawrence's 36-yard line. On three successive rushes, the Lawrence backs took it to the Lowell 19-yard line. Cronin did a three yard stretch through tackle, but failing of a first down Higgins booted behind the Lowell goal posts and the ball was again put in play on the 20-yard stripe where Willard punted to Higgins. Cronin got 10-yards off tackle and McManman threw Smith without gain. Lowell lost here in an exchange of kicks, Higgins booting to Willard who returned the compliment with a hurried kick to the 20-yard line, which was indirectly responsible for the second and final score. Cronin tore off a long end run, Chase tackling him. Higgins slipped through the Lowell defense and was resting on the five yard line when the whistle sounded, after a pretty 15-yard gain. Lowell held brilliantly at the goal posts and gave a creditable exhibition of strength and stamina in the face of impending defeat, but the inevitable happened and O'Neill went across the last chalkmark for a score. Lawrence prevented Higgins from kicking the goal. The remainder of the game saw Lawrence still having the better of the argument and the battle ended with the ball in enemy possession.

Football Has Many Amusing Features
BY "BO" McMILLIN.
Football is a spectacular game and many times the crowd is amused by the players. If this results in a break in favor of the home team it pleases the crowd, but if it should go against them, it will cause the spectators to groan. In my time I have seen some very peculiar plays and some of them have placed our team in dangerous positions at the time.

In a recent article I mentioned where our punter in one game missed the ball entirely on an attempt to punt. In this same game there were several other peculiar plays. Early in our game against West Virginia the Mountaineers tried the old shoe-string play where one man lays out near the side-line and a pass is thrown to him without a signal. But in this instance it failed to work as the man receiving the pass was thrown for a two-yard loss by our halfback.

Another play in that same game shows the advantage of a smart football player over a slow thinker. West Virginia tried a trick play in which the halfback carrying the ball starts on an end run and as he is tackled he will pass the ball to another back who is behind him waiting.

Roberts, who was playing defensive and for us on that day, refused to tackle the man but used his hands on him instead. Just as he was attempting to pass the ball he gave him a shove, causing a bad pass and consequently a fumble. Red scored on the ball and ran 30 yards before he was forced out of bounds. This broke up the offensive drive of the opposition and was largely responsible for our winning the game.

The spectators will sometimes wonder how the players manage to keep so cool under fire in a game as strenuous as football. However, the man in the stands does not know all that goes on during that 60 minutes. Even the most experienced players will get excited in the heat of a game, especially so in a hard one, when the team is about to score or be scored on for the winning touchdown. I recall one game in which Centre was on the small end of a 6 to 0 score. We had just made a pass to one of our ends, who, by a beautiful catch and run, carried the ball to the opponents' two-yard line. With first down and only two to go the end who had caught the pass rushed back to me and said, "Throw me a pass, throw me a pass." He was about as much excited as a man could be. If he had only stopped to think he would have known it would be a bad play to start at that time. On the first play we bucked the ball over and kicked the goal for the winning point.

COACH WARNER

WINS NEW HONORS

By N.E.A. Service

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 29.—The University of Pittsburgh football team will close its home season with the annual Thanksgiving Day game with the Pennsylvania State college at 3 o'clock, home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and a crowd of 33,000—all that the park will hold—is anticipated.

This will be the 25th contest between these Keystone state teams.

football relations between them extending back to 1893 when Pitt was known as the Western University of Pennsylvania.

Last year and in 1920 the games resulted in scoreless ties, and in 1919 State won by the score of 20 to 0. Previous to that the Panthers, who won six in a row, their victorious streak starting in 1914, the year before the veteran Glenn Warner came here to coach.

Pitt has lost two games this season, to Lafayette and West Virginia university. Lafayette won by the score of 7 to 0, and the Mountaineers triumphed by the count of 9 to 6.

Started With Green Team

Warner started out this fall with a decidedly green team. He had lost by graduation last spring four of the five men in the center of his line, including Herb Stein, who had won All-American honors at center. Harvey Hannon, one of the best tackles ever developed here; Leon Kelly and Fred Peters, he also lost his All-American halfback, Tom Davies, one of the greatest broken-field runners in modern football—a real dash, whose place could not be easily filled.

Then in the Lafayette game this fall he lost captain Tom Holleran, his quarterback, who was put out of it with a broken arm. Holleran was a tower of strength in the back field, a great blocker and a fine defensive player. He was also a heart at throwing forward passes and good at receiving them.

Then, on the eve of the Penn game, Nick, Shuler, second-string quarterback, who had been starting regularly, was stricken with pneumonia, and in the struggle with the Quakers, Nick, Colonna, second-string fullback, suffered a dislocated elbow, which deprived the coach of his star places.

Pitt Has Fine Record

In spite of numerous hardships, Warner kept steadily at work, defeating Bucknell, Syracuse, Cincinnati, Geneva and Penn, and topped this off with a most brilliant victory over Pitt's sectional rival, Washington and Jefferson, last Saturday.

Prominent in the W. & J. defeat were H. C. Flanagan, Orville M. Hawlit, J. C. Winterburn, Jack Back, Charley Bowser and John Anderson.

Pitt is mighty proud of its grid-ders, practically all of whom are products of high and prep schools in Western Pennsylvania. Coach Warner took this outfit and welded it into a machine which is showing more power and drive with every game. Pitt is one of the three colleges in the state of Pennsylvania which observes the one-year residence and the three-year competition eligibility rules, the others being University of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania State college.

RECITAL BY PUPILS OF PROFESSOR BOND

Pupils of Frederic Gerald Bond gave a pleasing song recital last evening in the Colonial hall, the various numbers of the extensive program appealing to a large audience, being well calculated to display the vocal ability and musical expression of the students. Mr. Bond also sang several selections excellently and assisted his pupils in various duets. The assisting artist was Waldo E. Murphy, an accomplished local violinist. The program contained songs by various composers of merit, notably Donizetti, Tosti, Verdi, Balfe, Ruy, Gabrielli, Stucken, Helmund, Dvorak, Tane and Cowles.

Through the recital throughout was most excellent, each pupil appearing in order receiving commendations of high order. It may be said that of all who appeared Miss Ethel M. Santos sang a little above the ordinary. She pleased especially in the difficult air from "Ernani" with a real coloratura soprano, and received an ovation. Miss Grace L. Moran, possessor of a sweet mezzo soprano, sang Tosti's "Beauty's Eyes" with much expression and tone. The program in entirety was as follows:

Duetto from La Favorita, While Thus Around Donizetti
Anna H. Volzard, Frederic G. Bond
Song, Forgotten Cowles
Daniel L. J. Pahey
Song, Mother of Pearl Ball
Joseph D. Lannan
Song, Sleep, Baby Sleep Johns
Sara J. Kenney
Song, Good-Bye! Tosti
Richard J. Perry
Song, The Silver Ring Chamblade
Anna H. Volzard
Song, Somewhere a Voice is Calling, Tane

Laura E. Doyon
Duetto, I Love and Love Thee, Campana Mario E. Toye, Frederic G. Bond
Song, Indian Lament Dvorak
Violin
Hungarian Dance Brahms
Waldo E. Murphy
Song, Thou Art Near Me Helmund
George H. C. C. C.
Song, Only the Sound of a Voice, Watson
Elizabeth Rind
Song, Beauty's Eyes Tosti
Grace L. Moran
Song, O Come with Me in the Summer-Night Stucken
John J. Farnham
Ovation from Ernani, Fly With Me, Verdi

PADEREWSKI RETURNS

Former Polish Premier and Noted Pianist Comes to Lowell Auditorium Dec. 12

Paderewski returned to New York last week as a musician. He made a brilliant "come-back" and his triumphant reception by his friends was a musical affair in the sense that musical clubs or music-lovers made up most of his audience. Critics concerned chiefly with the possibilities that an inveterate of politics might have affected Paderewski's art found the technical aspects of his performance perfect. The great pianist is as good if not better than ever.

He is one of the great outstanding artists of our time; he has been premier of Poland, the fifth largest nation on the continent of Europe; he is an orator of distinction. Such varied en-ance has not been heard of since the Renaissance. Paderewski is really greater than his art.

Seats for his Lowell recital in Memorial Auditorium December 12 will go on sale at Stalnert's, 130 Merrimack, at tomorrow morning. Mail orders are being received, but no telephone orders will be taken for this outstanding Auditorium attraction of the season.

WILD WHIST PARTY
The annual Thanksgiving eve whist under the auspices of the C.M.A.C. baseball team was held in the assembly hall of the organization in Pawtucket street Wednesday evening and was largely attended. Whist was the first number on the program and ten deals were played after which suitable prizes in the form of turkey and chickens and other good things were awarded. While the judges were counting up the points entertainment numbers were given by George Lohelle and Charles Chausse. There was also a radio concert under the direction of Joseph Dixon. The committee in charge consisted of Albert Gullbault, chairman; Henri Label, vice chairman; Philippe Morin, treasurer, and Honore Lohelle, secretary.

ATTACHMENT FILED

An attachment in the sum of $3500 was filed today at the local registry of deeds office by Valentine S. Feeley, against Antonello Feclaw in an action of contract.

THEY CALLED HIM AN "OLD PILL"

THAT was years ago when he packed a terrible grouch, a mighty irritable stomach and a liver that refused to do the things that all good livers should. No wonder his friends called him an "old pill" and stayed away.

But that was years ago—long before he discovered Beecham's Pills and learned that two at bed-time can bring sunshine into a man's life. Today, he's an optimist, a hero to his wife, and a staunch believer in Beecham's Pills.

The cheer that Beecham's Pills bring into a man's disposition, is the incomparable cheer of sound digestion, active liver, and the regular habits that make good health.

FIERY, ITCHING SKIN IS QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH THIS SULPHUR

Menthio-Sulphur, a pleasant cream will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.
The menthol sulphur preparation is applied, the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or discomfort. Menthio-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.
A small jar of Menthio-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store. Adv.

Resinol will soothe that itching skin

The Secret of Perfect Health —lies in the perfect functioning of the digestive organs and of those whose duty it is to free the system of harmful waste matter. Sick headaches, nervousness, indigestion, and insomnia—these are ways in which stomach, liver, and bowels ask for the help SANALT the Sensible Tonic, can give them.

Don't confuse SANALT with cathartics. It is different—a reconstructive tonic composed of the most valuable vegetable alteratives and entirely free from opiates, narcotics, or other harmful drugs.

The wise physician who originated the formula for SANALT over 100 years ago knew that stomach, liver, kidneys, and bowels must be naturally stimulated—not forced—to normal action. That is what SANALT does. And that is why SANALT has been able to restore health to thousands as it did to Mr. Edmund Burke of 24 Beckwith Street, Providence, R. I., who says:

"I had suffered from constipation for years. Cathartics forced my bowels to act, but I had to keep taking larger doses all the time to get action, and yet the trouble kept getting worse. When my stomach went back on me and spells of terrible headache tormented me, I was surely scared. When a friend told me that Sanalt would fix me so that I would not need cathartics I did not believe him. But my friend persuaded me to try it. I did not notice much change at first. In fact, my stomach and head showed improvement before the bowels did. But after two bottles of Sanalt I knew why it is called 'the Sensible Tonic,' for then my bowels were acting naturally, my digestion was perfect, appetite O. K., my complexion was much improved, and what surprised me most, instead of increasing the dose, I took less and less while using the last bottle and got the same result. Then I stopped entirely and kept well just the same."

You can get SANALT, or the other famous Winsol products, at any drug store. For Winsol preparations are one line of trade-marked proprietary remedies sold by both Winsol Agents and non-agent druggists. No need to accept substitutes. Any druggist can get Winsol remedies for you through his jobber.

NEUROPATHIC DROPS, the great emergency medicine, and CERIZANE BALSAM, for coughs, are two Winsol remedies that should be kept in every home. Ask your druggist about them.

B. O. & G. C. WILSON, Inc., BOSTON, MASS.

B. O. & G. C. Wilson, Inc., established in 1915, is conducted on a unique profit-sharing plan which benefits everybody concerned—the Winsol Agent, all non-agent druggists, every Winsol employee and the general public. The Winsol Plan—the last word in co-operation—is responsible for the rapid growth of the Winsol business to a position as one of the largest and most successful drug specialty houses in the country today.

Dear Sirs:
On the frontier of Burmah, in the Andes Mountains, in Mexico and other out-of-the-way places where my work has taken me, my Gillette has been with me. I thought of it as the end-point in the evolution of shaving implements, perfect and complete. A re-fill of blades could always be had in all countries, even in the smallest and most out-of-the-way trading posts. Everything else varied from place to place but the Gillette was universal, standard not to be improved upon.
I have tried the New Improved Gillette. The old style now seems like the primitive progenitor, before the final form had been evolved.
I congratulate you. You have given us something even better than what we thought was perfect.
Very truly yours

Jack Daw in Hoopland! Chapter 5

Now, if you have ever seen a hoop tree you can imagine the terrible time Jack and Flip had. Every time they tried to get out through one hoop they would climb but another. It seemed that they were captured for all time. Then one of the hoops said, "You're a funny looking pair."

Jack looked around, wondering where the voice came from. "Here I am," said the hoop, "right down below you." And sure enough, there was a big hoop with tiny feet and hands and a queer little head. "Will you help me out of this tree?" asked Jack. "Sure I will," replied the hoop.

Then Jack was told to hold his dog tight and climb inside a hoop. He did this and immediately the hoop started squirming. Shortly it began to roll round and round and almost before Jack knew it, he was flying toward the ground. He went around so fast that it made him dizzy! (Continued.)

Adventures of The Twins

OFF TO HUNT SNOW MAN

Jack o'Lantern did not have Mother Goose's broom—or broomstick, it should say—after all. He was greatly relieved to find that his stick of a body had not been stolen from the fairy lady who swept the sky!

"It's had enough to have to lend the rest of one's days leaning up against a barn," said Jack, "but it would be worse to go to jail."

Secretly had the words "it's had" when the farmer's wife came out and lifted off Jack's head and set it on the ground. Then she walked back to the house with the broomstick in her hand.

"This is a fine stick for beating carpets," she said. "Much too useful to be wasted on a silly pumpkin."

By this time Nanny and Nick were far down the road in their magic green shoes. And you'll never guess where they were going.

They were hunting for Snow Man. And Snow Man was a long way off up on a mountain.

"They asked some chickens if they had seen Snow Man, and the chickens had. They told the twins where to find him."

"He's standing in front of the wood-chopper's house and he's got on real mittens and a muffler and a butter bowl for a hat, and stones for eyes and he has a stick of pipe in his mouth," said the chickens. "The twins got a broomstick over his shoulder for a gun."

"That's the very person we are looking for," said Nick positively to Nanny. "Perhaps his gun is Mother Goose's broomstick."

The twins thanked the little gray birds and hurried on.

THE MOVIE GRAB BAG

Gladys Watson will be starred in the screen version of "The Chicken That Came Home to Roast," a story by Frederic Arnold Kummer appearing in a November magazine.

Antonio Moreno will be Mary Miles Minter's leading man in "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine."

Milton Sills and Anna Q. Nilsson will play the leads in Maurice Tourneur's "Isle of Dead Ships."

"The Flying Dutchman," a foreign film, has been revised to synchronize with the score of Wagner's opera.

PROPOSALS

Sealed bids will be received at the office of the Building Department at City Hall on Friday, Dec. 1, 1922, at 11:30 a. m. to equip and install a warm air furnace in a portable school building near Westford street. Plans may be seen at the office of the Building Department at City Hall.

A bond to the amount of 25 per cent of the contract price will be required of the successful contractor as a guarantee that the contract will be completed in a manner satisfactory to the Inspector of Public Buildings. In lieu of a bond, a certified check for the same amount will be accepted.

The Inspector of Public Buildings reserves the right to reject any or all proposals or to accept the proposal which seems to be the best interest of the City of Lowell.

Blanks and "Bullets" Bob
Up Prominently in Analysis of Tuesday's Vote

After election analysis never changes things, but sometimes a close study of the vote reveals many little surprises and some facts more or less interesting to those who delight in retrospective study.

It is down with a detailed account of Tuesday's vote before you and what you find if you are seeking either a blank or a bullet, or the reasons for either.

In the first place there were 331 blanks cast for mayor. That does not mean necessarily that 331 ballots contained no cross against any one of the names on the list, for a "blank" could be caused by a voter who had crossed the name of a candidate, but in the majority they are blanks because all spaces were blank.

It is not fair to assume then that approximately this number of people, men and women, either could not or did not designate a choice? The blanks appear in surprising numbers in every election, although locally some precincts are worse in this respect than others. Yesterday, Precinct 1 of Ward 8, situated in the very heart of the upper Highlands residential district, had the distinction, if it may be called that, of casting the largest number of blanks, with 21. Precinct 2 of Ward 6 was right behind with 22. Other registered blanks in lesser amounts, with three precincts, 1 of 1, 1 of 2 and 1 of 3, carrying off the honors with two, two and three blanks respectively.

While on the subject of things, the last letter of which is "B," we turn to "Bullets," which, with "Blanks," feature every election. "Bullets" and "Blanks" are practically synonymous, too, for one cannot exist without the other except in isolated instances.

"Bullets" for a candidate, or a group of candidates is to vote for a smaller number than one is entitled to vote for. For instance, if the ballot designates that one can vote for only six councilor candidates and then votes for one, two or three, instead of six, the vote is a "bullet."

In this connection the vote in Precinct 1 of Ward 6, at Salem and Common streets, shows unmistakable signs of a barrage. Of the 40 odd councilor-at-large candidates, four of them, Messrs. Lambert, Toupin, Lord and Sauvageau, so deeply buried were the "bullet" votes that they were not counted. While all other candidates were collecting anywhere from 20 to 275 votes, these four gentlemen registered respectively, 535, 632, 611 and 662 votes. Barrage, is right!

DONOGHUE DECIDED TO TAKE HIS MEDICINE

"The only thing you can do with me is to send me to jail. I won't pay a thing to those people," said a defendant by the name of Donoghue to Judge Fisher after he pleaded guilty to drunkenness this morning in court. "Perhaps you will see things in a different light after you have thought them over in jail," said his honor, "so I am going to give you two months in the house of correction."

The clerk of the court read the sentence and ended with the customary expression, "from this sentence you have the right of appeal."

Donoghue replied, "I won't appeal. I'll take it." He then went and sat down in the dock.

Superintendent Charles E. Whelan of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway company has returned to his desk after a two weeks' vacation. He was the last of the street railway employees to enjoy a vacation, and just prior to his much needed rest, he was busy engaged in visiting New England centers of the road and investigating conditions. During his absence, Mr. Thomas B. Sayers, foreman of the Middlesex street car bureau, was on duty in the Kearney square office.

Mr. Philip O'Neill of Lowell, now the purchasing agent for the Gillespie Mfg. Co., manufacturers of the Eden Washing machine, with headquarters at Paterson, N. J., and his assistant, Mr. William Bowers, also of this city, are visiting their families in Lowell.

The regular Monday morning assembly of the students of the high school will be held during the first period next week as usual. As yet, the speaker has not been announced. The three upper classes will meet in the Cyrus W. Irish auditorium and the freshmen in the Frank W. Colburn hall. The high school and all public schools of the city were closed today as a continuation of the Thanksgiving observance.

Daniel Smith, a well known young resident of this city and prescription manager in a Boston pharmacy, has received notification from the board of pharmacy to the effect that he has successfully passed the state examination and has been awarded a pharmacist registration. He attended the Abraham Lincoln school, the Lowell high school and the Massachusetts College of Pharmacy.

JOSEF ROSENBLATT TO SING IN LAWRENCE

Decidedly unique has been the life career of Josef Rosenblatt, the cantor-tenor, who will appear at the Colonial theatre, Lawrence, on Sunday, Dec. 3 at 2:30 p. m.

He was born in Bieliza, Tschikow, Russia, 40 years ago, and as a boy of eight was taken to Austria where his parents settled in the city of Newmarket. At the age of four, he displayed a remarkable ear for music and an unusual voice. He was able also to repeat parts of the synagogue services which he heard his father sing. Soon the public had a chance to hear him sing snatches of songs and his sweet manner and phenomenal power won him general admiration.

When he was about eighteen, during a tour through Hungary, he met his future wife. And when he returned to that country on his third tour, he married her. Their union has been an unusually happy one. Mrs. Rosenblatt has been particularly interested in her husband's art and has made sacrifices to insure his success. They have eight children and despite the vicissitudes of public life, enjoy a splendid home life.

It was shortly after extensive tours throughout Europe that Rosenblatt's fame spread to the United States but once the news had come, American music lovers became so insistent in their demands for his appearance here, that the cantor tenor had to accede to them finally. Once here, he became so charmed with the country that he decided to make this his permanent home.

PAINFULLY BURNED

Early last evening an alarm from box 227 was sent in for a bed fire at 214 Charles street. John Keenan, who was lying in bed at the time of the fire, was painfully burned about the body and was taken to St. John's hospital, where it was stated that his burns are not serious. The bed was thrown out of the window by the firemen and the blaze was extinguished without further damage.

MEETING OF NEW HOTEL COMMITTEE

An important meeting of the chamber of commerce new hotel committee was scheduled for this afternoon at chamber headquarters, when members of the organization working on plans for the location of a site for the proposed hotel, are to meet several building concern representatives in the campaign to secure informative material with which to lay the foundation for the hotel to come.

Among those who will be entertained by the chamber committee are C. C. Morgan, vice president of the Fred T. Ley Co. of Boston and Springfield, and also a representative of the "Honey System" of New York city.

The Ley representative was to present details of modern hotel building with reference to a city's needs the size of Lowell. The Ley Co. is widely known for handling building operations of great magnitude as well as creating service institutions of modern design.

It will be remembered that this contracting and building firm built numerous great army camps during the war. It is now engaged in constructing buildings of great height and area in various sections of the country, and has a specialty department for handling hotel construction jobs.

SAYS PROTESTANTS WILL CRUSH KLAN

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Jewish organizations need take no action against the Ku Klux Klan, but may leave the task of combating the body to Protestants, James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany, told members of the congregation B'nai B'rith in a Thanksgiving Day address.

"I have been informed that a Jewish organization, B'nai B'rith, has said it will crush the Klan," Mr. Gerard said. "I will say to you that no Jewish organization need take any action, leave it to the Protestants."

The principal reason for thanksgiving, he said, was that there still is liberty in America. "But," he added, "organizations like the Klan are its enemies. Religion, morality and Americanism do not need masks."

Four Men Perish In Hotel Fire

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 1.—Four men lost their lives in a fire early today in the Ben Hur hotel, formerly known as the Oak hotel. None of the dead had been identified several hours after the fire. Other guests escaped in their night clothing. The building was destroyed. The number of injured had not been determined at daybreak. The fire broke out in the hotel furnace room. An explosion on the third floor forced rescuers from the building. Guests at two of the principal hotels, the Benson and Oregon which adjoins the Ben Hur, were awakened and warned to prepare to leave if the fire spread. The fire was controlled before it reached other buildings. The loss is estimated at $60,000.

"Flying Parson" Wins Scholarship

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—Harold C. Cutbill, the "flying parson" of the amateur running track was announced today as the winner of a scholarship in the Harvard Theological school. Cutbill, whose home is in South Norwalk, Conn., is enrolled this year as a graduate student in the school.

College at Montreal Destroyed by Fire

MONTREAL, Dec. 1.—The Laval Dental College, connected with the University of Montreal, was practically destroyed by fire early today. The college which is separated from the main building of the university was valued at about $500,000. Officials are at a loss to explain the origin of the blaze, the second within three weeks at the university, and the third within two years. All available fire apparatus responded to the alarms, and brought the flames under control after two hours fighting. Eight firemen were injured slightly by flying glass and in minor accidents.

Wanamaker Continues to Grow Weaker

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 1.—A bulletin on the condition of John Wanamaker, merchant and former postmaster general, issued by his doctors at 7:30 a. m., today said: "With a continued loss of strength and vitality, Mr. Wanamaker passed a comfortable night."

Denounces 12-Hour Day for Labor

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The 12-hour day in labor should be done away with in the United States, President Harding declared in a statement incorporated as part of the Federated American Engineering Societies' report on work periods, made public today. "It has seemed to me for a long time," his statement says, "that the 12-hour day and the type of worker it produces have outlived their usefulness. The old order must give way to a better and wiser form of organization so that the proper family life may be enjoyed by all our people."

73-Year-Old Man Wins 50-Yard Dash

SAN QUENTIN, Cal., Dec. 1.—John Ross, 73, won the 50-yard dash for men over 65 years of age at the annual Thanksgiving Day track and field meet at the state prison here. Ross underwent a gland transplanting operation last year. Seven men condemned to death witnessed the festivities.

MISS DOWD CAUGHT IN BRIDAL SHOWER

Miss Katherine Dowd, formerly of Lowell, by, now of Hartford, Conn., was caught in a bridal shower, Tuesday evening, at the home of Mrs. John J. Coughlin, May street.

Miss Dowd, who is rather opposed to surprises, came to Lowell recently on a visit, but did not make known her plans. However, reports from the shopping district indicated a bridal trousseau. Miss Dowd was invited to a party and when she arrived at her destination there were raffles for Miss Dowd as well as for the candidates, Conn.

The Misses Irene Maxwell and Anna Quinlan entertained with music. The Misses Winifred Coleman, Winifred Hart, May Tarpey and Minnie Conners entertained with old fashioned dances and little Burns gave readings. Miss Dowd tossed the conventional shower bouquet and it was caught by Miss Agatha Trainor; usually indicating another shower soon. Mrs. Eliza Grennan supervised a dainty lunch. Miss Dowd will be married on next Wednesday morning at St. Peter's church to Mr. Joseph Walsh of Hartford, Dowd as well as for the candidates, Conn.

Well Known Clergyman Died Last Night at Parsonage in Ellsworth Street

Rev. N. W. Matthews, Ph.D., beloved pastor of the First Primitive Methodist church for many years and one of Lowell's best known clergymen, died last night at the parsonage on Ellsworth street after a seven-day illness, he was 64 years old.

The death of this well known clergyman, whose record as a disseminator of the gospel was notable, and whose career has always been replete with one of rare merit and successful work, comes as a distinct shock to the REV. N. W. MATTHEWS, PH.D., clergyman's host of friends and close associates far and near. He was not only popular in religious circles, but was also a most considerate gentleman of the highest of human qualities. He was a member of the community that will be sorely missed.

The pastor had been in poor health several weeks, but was not obliged to take to his bed until about a week ago. He grew rapidly worse late last evening, called slightly, then had a sudden relapse. The end was peaceful.

Rev. Mr. Matthews was in the 43rd year of his ministry when taken ill. Twenty-nine of these years were spent in the First Primitive Methodist church of Lowell. He also ministered to churches in Fall River and New Bedford and in the state of Pennsylvania before his return to Lowell for permanent residence. He was the founder of the First Primitive Methodist church of Lowell and lived to see it prosper.

The clergyman had an interesting career. Rev. Nathaniel Williams Matthews was born in Crowell, Conn., May 18, 1858, of old Methodist stock. When a boy of 15 he emigrated to the United States with his parents, went to Michigan, then Connecticut, and finally settled in Pennsylvania. The boy was conspicuous in his early years as a preacher of sorts in the mining regions, and also worked in the coal mines in that section. He studied actively, attending both public and private schools, went later to Wyoming seminary, Swain school, and also took a post graduate course at Taylor university and received the degree of Ph.D.

In 1870 Rev. Mr. Matthews was sent to this city to reorganize the Primitive Methodist church. In three months he had gathered in 18 members and enrolled 70 pupils in the Sunday school. He pursued his religious studies as usual, and later in the same year he was called to the ministry, then becoming the active head of the First Primitive Methodist church in fact.

After four years here with this religious organization, Rev. Mr. Matthews was sent to reorganize the Primitive Methodist church in New Bedford and Fall River, and again in 1877 he came back to Lowell to the head of the church over which he ministered up to the time of his death. He recently celebrated his 25th anniversary as pastor, and had gained the high esteem and admiration of all denominations in the city and immediate vicinity.

The pastor was the founder, editor and publisher of the "Primitive Methodist Journal," but retired from that work some time ago because of pressure of other religious duties. He was a member of Mineral lodge of St. John, P.A.O.F., was chaplain of Pentecost lodge of Masons, this city; member of Irons lodge of Good Templars and an honorary member of Waverley lodge of Sons of St. George, this city. He served for six terms as president of the Primitive Methodist conference.

He was also appointed to the chaplaincy of the Lowell jail in June, 1904, and retained that title up to the abandonment of the jail.

Rev. Mr. Matthews married in 1882 Miss Ida J. Butterworth of this city. Besides his wife, three children, Nathaniel W., Jr., John W. and Miss Martha F., survive him.

DEATHS

NO PROSPECT OF BREAK IN FILIBUSTER

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—There was no prospect of a break in the democratic filibuster against the Dyer anti-lynching bill when the session ended today after the holiday adjournment. Democratic senators said they were fortified with a number of new moves to prevent the bill from being taken up and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, one of the democratic floor leaders in the filibuster, said the fight on his side had only begun.

LOWELL CASES IN THE PROBATE COURT

(Special to The Sun)
CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—Julia Henry, of Lowell, has filed a libel for divorce against her husband, James, of Portland, Me. She alleges cruel and abusive treatment, and desertion on June 23, 1912. The couple were married August 30, 1899, and have one child, Mary, whose custody the mother is seeking.

Pauline C. Mathieu, of Lowell, has filed a libel for divorce against her husband, Adelard J., now of Paris, unknown. She alleges cruel and abusive treatment, and desertion on April 1, 1910. The couple were married May 16, 1902.

Albert J. Ryan, of Lowell, has been sued for $500, in action of contract, by Ethel Chisholm, also of Lowell, who alleges that Ryan has failed to meet his promissory note for $100.

Arthur J. Jayhorn, of Lowell, has been sued for $2500 in action of tort, by Frank J. Cole, of Somerville, who alleges that his automobile was badly damaged as a result of a collision with an automobile owned by Jayhorn.

The will of Ruth Newcomb Green, of Lowell, has been filed for probate. She died November 15 and leaves an estate valued at $34,000, all personal property. The will names as executor her son, John M. Green, who names his father, William S. Green, as appointed his agent. Under the terms of the will the husband, William S. Green, bequeathed $600; a daughter, Ruth N. Green, $5,000; and the residue goes to a son, John M. Green. The will is returnable at East Cambridge December 6.

Albert A. and Ethel B. Hopper, of Providence, R. I., have adopted, through the court, Albert A. Wilson, year-old son of Harriett Lorraine Wilson, of Lowell. The adoption was allowed, with the consent of the boy's mother, and the boy's name is changed to Albert A. Hopper.

William H. Wilson, of Lowell, has filed a petition asking that he be appointed administrator of the estate of Charles E. Farrington, of Tewksbury, who died November 23. Bond of $10,000. The estate is valued at $8,000, of which $5,000 is in real and $3,000 in personal property. The petition is returnable at East Cambridge, December 14.

the members of the Highland church, the Highland Congregational, Calvary Baptist, Highland Union M. E. and Grace Universalist churches, was held yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the Grace church and it was largely attended. Special music was given by the choir and a forceful sermon was delivered by Rev. Joseph E. Kennedy of the First Presbyterian church, who preached from the text found in Romans, first chapter, 21st verse. His theme was the reaction upon life, of a spirit of thanksgiving, resulting in deeper appreciation of God's blessings and of God himself, in contrast with the practical effect upon life, of being thankful. He cited the effect on the heathen world, as shown in his text, leading to degradation of character, and then the effect of a knowledge of God and of His blessings, leading to proper recognition of Him, as our father; and ultimately, the effect upon character, leading to the development of all those higher institutions of nobility that are the product of human impulses of generosity and sympathy, developed through religion.

"Doctor, I Want Teeth I Can Eat With"

A man came into this office some time ago and made the above statement. He said he had tried with either teeth and could not eat with either of them. I made him a set and he came in the office later and said they were the only ones he could keep in his mouth while eating. In fact he could chew peanuts and eat apples without the least trouble. The reason for this in my particular method of taking impressions, study of the shape and relation of the jaws, and correct articulation of the teeth. Now, I can make you a set of teeth just as good as his. If your plate drops or rocks come in, for I make a specialty of difficult cases and will examine your mouth and give you advice free of charge. The price for sets of teeth is $8 up, Gold crowns $6. Filling $3.50 up. Teeth extracted painlessly, free, when plates are ordered. Open Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings. Dental nurse in attendance.

OBSERVED THEIR GOLDEN WEDDING

The 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Wilson of Seventy-fourth avenue, Pawtucketville, was observed Thanksgiving at their home by the immediate family and Mr. and Mrs. T. Raymond Pierce of Wellesley. Thanksgiving evening of 1872 Mr. Wilson married Miss Mary T. Clement of Pawtucket, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Clement. Many cards and letters of congratulation were received and also numerous gifts at their home Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are enjoying good health. They have four children, Mrs. Howard M. Estabrook, Mrs. Helen M. Snyder, Bertha E. Wilson and J. Clement Wilson, all of Lowell.

B. U. HONORS LOWELL STUDENTS

Three Lowell students at Boston University have received recognition from the authorities for excellence in their work. Miss Marjorie H. Pratt, who was graduated from the Lowell Normal school last June, has been awarded a scholarship in the School of Education, while Rob Roy McLeod and Abraham Hanks have been placed on the honor list of the College of Business Administration for proficiency in studies.

Miss Eleanor L. Warren of Chelmsford has been elected a member of the Glee club, and Miss Louise M. Parice of Chelmsford has been appointed freshman representative to the student senate. Marion Sweet of Westford holds an important office in the French club.

TRYON STORE IS DAMAGED BY FIRE

Tryon's store in Manchester, N. H., was recently badly damaged by fire that gutted the Biggett block in that city. Much of the enormous $35,000 stock that was on hand for the Christmas business will be transferred to Lowell and a big sale staged here. Tryon has been in business in Manchester for three years and the store was used as a depot for many small dealers in New Hampshire who handle Tryon goods. The fire was caused by the explosion of a boiler.

WILL CUT THE STREET DEPARTMENT PAYROLL

More than 100 temporary employees of the street department will be cut from the payroll beginning next Monday by order of the board of public service, which finds it necessary to follow a system of retrenchment if that department is to function financially for the remainder of the year. This will not affect the program of work for the year, it is said, for practically all jobs now open will be completed by that time.

The decision to cut the temporary men from the payroll was made Wednesday afternoon at a meeting of the public service board, at which routine matters primarily were discussed.

Foremen in the street department filed a request for a blanket raise of $1 a day, but no action was taken.

The board notified City Solicitor Edward J. Tierney to prepare releases in settlement of the claim of Michael J. Ready for back wages in the amount of $1100, which is the sum agreed upon by the board and Thos. L. Reynolds, attorney for Mr. Ready, who was discharged and reinstated as engineer at the city lodge.

Councillor Arthur Genest of ward 7 appeared before the board to urge proper draining of Mt. Hope street and the acceptance of Phoebe ave.

WOMAN IS IDENTIFIED

Sensational Testimony Heard in $25,000 Alienation of Affection Suit

The testimony offered Wednesday afternoon in the alienation of affections suit brought by Elmer B. Perrigo of Bedford, N. H., against Edgar F. Twombly of Billerica, which is on trial in superior court, was more or less sensational. Mr. Perrigo is seeking to obtain $25,000 from the Billerica man on the grounds that he attended the wedding of his wife, following Wednesday's session the court adjourned until next Monday.

A feature of the day's trial was the identification of a woman named Miss Whitehead who has been present throughout the trial of the case. Mr. Twombly, who was put on the stand in his own defense, said that it was Miss Whitehead who was with him in a local hotel on July 25. He says he sent for her because he had one of his attacks, sufferings from terrible pains in his foot. He says she attended him there as she had done for four or five years, whenever he suffered one of his attacks.

He testified to taking an auto trip some time in 1921 in company with Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo and Miss Whitehead. The party went to Montreal, stopping at various places on the way. Whenever the party stayed over it was registered as Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo and Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Gray. The defendant said that he had been in the habit of calling himself Gray.

Miss Whitehead, the lady referred to

NERVOUS WOMAN

Was Depressed and Irritable—Now Well and Always Cheerful

"Some time ago I had a very serious nervous breakdown. I became so weak, fretful, irritable and excitable that the least thing made my heart flutter and my limbs tremble as though I had a chill. I was utterly unable to control my emotions and a clap of thunder would make me shriek from terror. I finally became so depressed, listless and debilitated that I sometimes felt actually abandoned of myself.

I began taking Wincarnis and after a very short time the improvement in my whole condition was really startling. Everyone commented on it. To-day my appetite is excellent, I sleep soundly, am cheerful all the time and have an abundance of energy. I do wish that every nervous or run-down woman could know what a wonderful tonic and restorative Wincarnis is."

on a couch and denied that he was ever friendly with Mrs. Perrigo. Mr. Twombly said that the first time he ever heard of Mr. Perrigo's trouble with his wife was when he was called to Manchester. He said he saw Mrs. Perrigo at the house and that she said "I am not going to be knocked down and kicked all over this house by any man."

He related his version of the incidents of the meeting at the hotel on August 4. He said that Mrs. Perrigo went to room 305. No familiarity took place he said.

"Did you ever kiss her?"

"No."

"I started to talk business with her about the lawsuit," Mr. Twombly said, "and she said I was helping Elmer, so that she could not get her divorce. I told her that was not so. When the three men came in (Perrigo and two officers) I told the officers it was purely a matter of business and one of them as much as called me a liar."

"What did you say to Perrigo?"

"Most everything I could think of."

"It has been testified that you said to Mrs. Perrigo, when you all left the hotel 'don't go with him.' Did you say that?"

"I did not."

He gave his account of the meeting in Nashua on Aug. 25, and said he went there because Mrs. Perrigo had telephoned and asked him to go. When they were driving out the Keene road an automobile passed them, and Perrigo stuck out his head and said "I have caught you again." Mrs. Perrigo said she was afraid of Perrigo, and wanted to go back to Nashua, which they did. They were just talking business, while driving out the Keene road.

Asked if he had ever wished Mrs. Perrigo to leave her husband, Mr. Twombly answered, "no sir."

"Or ever promised to marry her or to give her any money?"

"No sir."

"Or induced her to bring divorce suits, or to bring any suits against you, or to do any one thing to the detriment of her husband?"

"No sir."

On being asked about the registration at a local hotel on July 25, under the name of G. W. Gray and wife, the counsel asked, Miss Whitehead to please stand. The lady stood. She has been in attendance every day, at the trial of the case.

He said that Miss Whitehead has trained two and a half years, as a nurse.

"Is her employment by you well known to Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo?"

"Yes sir."

Mr. Howard, cross-examining, went closely into his business dealings with the Perrigos. Mr. Twombly said that Perrigo did not pay him one cent for what he did for him, that he was always short of money. "I loaned him money besides," he said, "totaling $4500, and he returned them to Perrigo when Perrigo gave him a deed to the farm. Subsequently a deed was given to Thelma Perrigo, a daughter."

Perrigo, he said, gave him two notes, totaling $4500, and he returned them to Perrigo when Perrigo gave him a deed to the farm. Subsequently a deed was given to Thelma Perrigo, a daughter."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

Woman is Identified

testified in direct examination. According to his testimony, Miss Whitehead was with him on that trip and also Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo. They stopped at several hotels along the way, and always, when they stayed over night, they registered as Mr. and Mrs. Perrigo and C. W. Gray and wife.

"Why did you register with Ella Whitehead as C. W. Gray and wife?"

"Mr. Perrigo and I slept together, and the two women slept together."

"I didn't ask you that. I asked why you registered in that way."

"It was a habit I had."

"Was there any particular reason why you wanted to call yourself C. W. Gray at that time?"

"It was just a peculiarity of yours?"

"That may be."

"Did it ever occur to you that these registrations would be damaging to her reputation?"

"Why, no. Not when there was no harm done."

Judge Cox questioned him about the places where they stopped, and he could not remember. He knew they went to Montpelier, but could not recall the name of the hotel at which they registered.

Mr. Twombly admitted that he guaranteed a number 101 in Manchester for Mr. Perrigo. He was absolutely sure it was for Mr. Perrigo, not for Mrs. Perrigo.

Mr. Howard showed him a paper, and he said the signature attached was not his. He did not know the handwriting in the body of the paper. Never saw the paper before, he said.

Mr. Howard offered the paper for comparison of the signature with that on the checks which Mr. Twombly had admitted signing, and after examining the signature Judge Cox admitted them, explaining to the jury that they were to consider the paper only as a specimen of handwriting to compare with the signature on the checks, that they were to give the paper no consideration, unless they decide that the signature is the same as those on the checks.

Mr. Howard asked: "Now do you still say that you guaranteed the turn-der for Mr. Perrigo and not for Mrs. Perrigo?"

"Yes, sir. I signed no paper at all."

Mr. Howard, cross-examined on the matter of the meeting in Manchester, when Mr. Twombly testified, Perrigo called upon him by telephone for help, saying he had been arrested for "killing his wife." This was the hearing on the preliminary divorce proceedings and the injunction, and there was no arrest. Mr. Twombly was mixed up in regard to the date of the hearing, and he could not tell the name of the hotel in Manchester, at which he said he stayed with Perrigo on that night, nor could he describe its location.

There was an outbreak of laughter in the court when Mr. Twombly said that he stopped at so many hotels he could not remember them all, and Judge Cox remonstrated, saying that if there was a recurrence of the incident on Monday, he would be obliged to order the court room cleared of all except the interested parties and witnesses.

Adjourned until next Monday.

HARVARD APPOINTMENTS

CAMBRIDGE, Dec. 1.—The appointments of Major Edwin P. Parker, Jr., Captain Robert W. Daniels and Captain Basil H. Perry, all of the regular army, as assistant professors of military science and tactics at Harvard, were announced by the governing boards of the university today. Their appointments are to be for the period of their military training work at Harvard.

THOUSANDS HAVE KIDNEY TROUBLE AND NEVER SUSPECT IT

Applicants for Insurance Often Rejected

Judging from reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has been very successful in overcoming these conditions. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized, it stands the highest for its remarkable record of success.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that one reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of those whose applications are declined do not even suspect that they have the disease. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes, medium and large. However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send 10 cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

MOLTKE DROPPED

New Mistress of Doorn Castle Makes Changes in Kaiser's Household

DOORN, Holland, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press) The first change in the Kaiser's household since the Princess Hermine took over the reins of the departure of Count Von Moltke, the court marshal, the new "empress" has signalled her intention of instituting a regime which will be directly opposed to the policies of Von Moltke. The dispute between Princess Hermine and the retiring marshal is said to have arisen over the question of whether the Kaiser should confine himself to Doorn castle. The former emperor's bride favored freedom of movement for her husband, but this was contrary to the wishes of Von Moltke, who is regarded as responsible for the virtual imprisonment of Wilhelm within the garden walls. Princess Hermine and her youngest daughter take daily walks outside the castle grounds and she has appeared several times in the town of Doorn. The Kaiser has been frequently seen with her in parts of the grounds and it is expected that she will soon go with her to accompany her on trips to the village.

POPE PIUS WORKS ON IMPORTANT DOCUMENTS

ROME, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press) Pope Pius has been working very hard of late at two important documents, namely, his allocution and his encyclical. The former will be delivered in secret consistory on December 11. The latter, which is regarded as very important in that it compromises the program of his pontificate, is addressed to all the Roman Catholic bishops in the world. It was originally meant for the consistory, but its issuance has been postponed to a date not yet determined. The pontiff wishes to revise the text, emphasize the style and introduce modifications and additions suggested to him by events throughout the world. Whenever it hinted that the encyclical is delayed, the pope tranquilly observed: "That is immaterial; one year more or less is of no consequence in church history."

HELD IN MURDER CASE
NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Evidence of the murder of Mrs. Jennie Becker, whose body was found Wednesday in a lime-filled grave, was placed before the Bronx county grand jury today. Abraham Becker, the slain woman's husband, Tuben Norkin, owner of a wedding shop adjoining the burial lot, and Miss Amy Kins are being held, pending the grand jury's action.

HEAD STUFFED FROM CATARRH OR A COLD

Opens Air Passages Right Up.

Instant relief—no waiting. Your clogged nostrils open right up; the air passages of your head clear and you can breathe free. No more yawning, sneezing, blowing, headache, dryness. No struggling for breath at night; your cold or catarrh disappears.

Get a small bottle of Dalby's Cream Balm from your druggist now. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic, healing cream in your nostrils. It penetrates through the every air passage of the head, soothes the inflamed or swollen mucous membrane and relief comes instantly. It's just fine. Don't stay stuffed-up with a cold or nasty catarrh.—Adv.

BRIEF BUT IMPORTANT WIRE DISPATCHES

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—Charging that her husband, Eugene V. Brewster, wealthy publisher of motion picture magazines, had maintained a secret actress in their home at Roslyn, L. I., and then moved to a house in Narragansett, N. J., with her, Mrs. Eleanor Brewster today began a suit for separation in Brooklyn supreme court.

FRESNO, Cal., Dec. 1.—Judge R. G. Cornell of Chowchilla and wet weather at Los Angeles convaled to keep Ralph De Palma from beginning today a 10-day term in the Madera county jail for speeding. The race at Los Angeles in which De Palma is entered was postponed until Sunday and De Palma was allowed until 2 o'clock Monday afternoon to present himself to begin serving the sentence.

BOSTON, Dec. 1.—The cost of building has increased nearly 27 per cent, since January 1, the division of statistics of the department of labor and industries announced today. Beginning with the month of May, prices for labor and materials showed a steady increase, it was said.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Dec. 1.—Arguments were begun today in the county court in the trial of the attorney for a million dollars brought by Mrs. Durr Stevens Woodhouse against her husband's parents. Each side was allotted six hours to place its arguments before the jury, which has been hearing evidence for four weeks.

NEW YORK, Dec. 1.—The Delaware, Lackawanna & Western Coal Co. today called a special meeting of stockholders for December 18, to act on a proposal to declare a 40 per cent stock dividend. The present capitalization of the company is $20,000,000.

LEGISLATION FOR THE RELIEF OF FARMERS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—The administration has ready today a definite program of legislation for the financial relief of farmers formulated in agreement with senate leaders on both the agriculture and banking committees and to be pressed with their support at the short session of congress.

Approved at a conference yesterday between President Harding, Secretary Wallace and 15 republican senators, headed by Senator Lodge, majority senate leader, and Senator Watson, of Indiana, who has been making an active survey of the question, the program contemplates utilization of the federal farm loan board as the agency for extension of larger and more liberal credits, both as to interest rates and time to meet the present agricultural necessity.

"UNDER THE SPOTLIGHT" WAS BIG SUCCESS

The musical comedy, "Under the Spotlight" presented to a capacity audience by the Young Men's Catholic Institute in the Auditorium last night was a great success and the participants are worthy of congratulations for their excellent work.

The presentation was divided into two parts, the first half of the program consisting of sketches, songs, dances and jokes. The soloists performed admirably and received wonderful support from the chorus and end men, the latter keeping the audience enthralled with their witticisms. Among the soloists were Patrick Maguire, assisted by his Bamboo Babies group, in "Where the Bamboo Babies Grow"; Miss Sadie Sheehan, Dorothy Nolan, Raymond Kelley and Joseph Reilly. Specialty dance numbers were given by Miss Doris Conley, Al Drouin and Peggy O'Reilly.

The familiar "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shenan" featuring Edward F. Shattory and Charles J. Keyes was provocative of much laughter and forced the principals to exhaust their supply of amusing verses. As "Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Shenan," Mr. Keyes and Mr. Shattory referred to Mr. Brown and Mr. Donovan, mayoralty candidates who occupied front row seats and versified them to the amusement of themselves, the candidates and the audience.

A spectacle in connection with the show and worthy of honorable mention was the grand patriotic finale in which veterans of the Civil, Spanish-American and World wars took part. The show was directed by Dom M. and George E. Keegan of Boston and reflected much credit on their ability to get results. Miss Dorothy Leach, accompanist, played exceptionally well and harmonized beautifully with the soloists and choruses. General dancing was enjoyed after the show.

The program in detail was as follows:

Hints to Home Decorators
by Luella Parsons

PEOPLE often ask me if there isn't some way to redecorate their dark or dingy rooms without going to a lot of expense. I am always glad to tell about Muralite. By using it, walls can be made bright and cheerful at a cost of a dollar or two a room. Muralite is a powder that you mix with hot water. It can be put on over painted walls, plaster, wallboard, or slightly-pasted wall paper. You can apply Muralite very easily yourself, and you will be delighted with its soft, even, velvety finish.

"Our floors are more than clean"

"Some housekeepers think that thorough and frequent scrubbing is all that floors ever need. I had that idea, too, before I realized that average soaps and scouring compounds haven't any effect on germs which get into floor cracks and crannies.

"Sarah Marsh enlightened me. She popped in one Friday morning while I was mopping up the mud the Harrigan boy always brings into the kitchen when he delivers the meat. I don't believe he knows a door mat when he sees one right under his nose.

"Sarah watched me fill a fresh pail of scouring suds. 'Goodness gracious, Ethel!' she exclaimed. 'Why don't you use Sylpho-Nathol in your mop-water? How do you expect to destroy the germs in the dirt that's brought in from the street on people's shoes? Did you ever stop to think of the positive danger that is tracked back and forth across your floors from morning until night?'

"That's how I was introduced to Sylpho-Nathol.

"Sylpho-Nathol is an effective safeguard against germs because it is 4½ times stronger than carbolic acid. But it doesn't hurt your hands a bit, nor injure things. The druggist says it is as safe to have in the house as a cake of scouring soap. Just a tablespoonful in a pail of warm water makes a clean-smelling, pearly-gray solution that's ready for immediate use."

Mop-water is just one of the many things for which Sylpho-Nathol is indispensable. It should be used regularly for sink drains and garbage receptacles; for cellar corners; around the bathroom tiling and fixtures; as a flush for the closet bowl wherever odors may start or disease germs breed. Sylpho-Nathol comes in four handy sizes, 1lb, 5lb, 6lb, $1.25. Most good grocers and druggists have it. If yours hasn't, he can get it easily. Just ask for it by the name—"Sylpho-Nathol."

MESSAGE ISSUED BY HEAD OF LEGION

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—In a Thanksgiving message, issued by Alvin M. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, he set forth a program of public measures endorsed by the American Legion as calculated to assure continued integrity of American institutions and prosperity for the American people.

The list of objectives given in the message comprehended: "first," for the 2,000,000 disabled war veterans; cultivation of loyal American citizenship through education and consequent equality of opportunity; adequate physical development and instruction for the nation's youth; exclusion of immigrants for a period of years; retention of army personnel to the minimum fixed by the defense act of 1920; adjustment of wartime compensation; and co-operation of the American Legion with the International Association of Allied Veterans of the World War in the effort to bring about a better understanding among civilized nations.

In referring to the disabled war veterans, Mr. Owsley said: "The legion asks for no charity for the disabled; the legion calls for justice, that is all. We call upon the nation to be mindful of its own."

In clarifying the American constitution the "most effective instrument yet devised for the expression of the will of all the people," Mr. Owsley pointed out that "equality of opportunity is a necessity of a free people" and that "equality of opportunity can only be arrived at through equal opportunity of education." He said that of the 25,000,000 children of school age in the United States, many millions do not attend school regularly and many are compelled to toil too young.

"Already the legion has effected legislation for compulsory school attendance," he continued, "and has assisted greatly in the enforcement of such legislation. We shall continue until child labor has been supplanted by child growth, development and study throughout the land. The legion has undertaken a campaign against illiteracy."

As to physical instruction for the young, Mr. Owsley said that "there must be measures adopted for adequate physical instruction and development of the youth of the country."

"There must be fresh air and sanitation in the cities," he said. "There must be parks and playgrounds; there must be adequate physical instruction in all the schools; and the legion is working to this end."

Discussing army personnel, the national commander declared, "the men of the legion are out of sympathy with the policy of economy that would cut out military defense below the safety line defined in the defense act of 1920."

Mr. Owsley asserted that it is the will of the American people that the war veterans be given an adjusted compensation and "they have expressed that will in no uncertain terms on every opportunity offered them."

"There is no shadow of doubt," he added, "of the coming of this national adjustment of compensation."

The message concluded with an appeal for all loyal Americans to give thanks for the benefits conferred upon them by their citizenship in this "free and mighty nation."

CHINESE BURBANK

A "perfume grapefruit" is the latest innovation in the horticultural world. It has been developed by Lui Gin Gong, the 63-year-old Chinese Burbank of Deland, Fla. This fruit hangs upon the tree for two or three years. When placed in a room it gives a lasting and pleasant perfume.

Girls! Aren't These Movie Proposals a Riot?

MARJORIE DAW, HEROINE OF "THE PRIDE OF PALOMAR"

BY JAMES W. DEAN
NEW YORK, Nov. 27.—These movie proposals are almost as amusing as the real thing, aren't they? Take, for instance, the proposal of Forest Stanley to Marjorie Daw in "The Pride of Palomar." There have been many others like it in the films.

The hero sits down beside the girl and says, "When I've made good I want to ask you something."

Now, honestly, girls, if the fellow were to say that to you and you were in love with him, wouldn't you collar him and ask him what in the world

it was that he intended to ask you, even if you knew right away what he meant?

And, say, fellows, don't you think that a fellow who had enough confidence in himself to get $300,000 in a year or kill a dragon or do something of the kind would have enough nerve to propose to a girl so she would be able to give him a "yes" or "no" answer? I mean after he got up enough nerve to propose?

Peter B. Kyme turned out a first-rate story when he wrote "Brothers Under the Skin." He wasn't preaching any of his own beliefs then. He was just telling a story.

In "The Pride of Palomar" he injects propaganda against the sale of land to Japanese. His personal prejudices rob the story of logic.

In one episode he has two or three unarmed Americans get the best of twice their number of unarmed Japs. At another time he has the Jap village threaten to bring over the Japanese army to capture a California ranch.

It is the opinion of this humble writer that the United States could muster an army overnight that could overwhelm any army of invasion. On the other hand I believe any given number of Japanese men could get the better of an equal number of Americans in an unarmed set-to. The Japs know their Jiu-Jitsu.

Several other little things in "The Pride of Palomar" nettled me. The hero's right hand was too weak to cut his meat, but it was strong enough a few moments later to support his weight on the platform rail of a moving train.

He said the weakness of the hand was due to a "saber thrust" he received in the recent war. I saw several thousand wounded members of the A.E.F. but not one of them was injured by a saber. Who carried sabers in the last war, anyway?

Early in the story the hero is reported killed in battle, but that was a mistake. During the story he is shot from his horse and left for dead. That was a mistake, too. That is overlooking the idea to create suspense.

Despite these little inconsistencies, "The Pride of Palomar" is a passing fair film. I point out these little inconsistencies because they are characteristic of all the "passing fair" films, the movies that are just movies.

Frank Lloyd takes scenes in Auburn prison, the Tombs and New York subways with Norma Talmadge for "Within the Law."

Mary Miles Minter has completed "Drums of Destiny." Her next will be from an original story by Hector Turnbull.

RESTING PLACE FOR CHRISTMAS SHOPPERS

The Central M.E. church, corner of Paige and John streets, co-operating with leading stores of the city, will throw open its doors to the general public during the "rush season" for one week before the Christmas holiday. Women and children are especially invited to drop in and rest any time.

Rev. Leslie C. Bookes, pastor of the church, has interviewed leading store managers and has secured their co-operation. Among those who have promised their support are the A. G. Pollard Co., the B. F. March, the Chaffoux Co., Cherry & Webb, the Woolworth Co., the Kresge Co., and the Nelson Five and Ten Cent stores. They will advertise the rest room in their advertisements between now and the Christmas season. It is planned to have the vestry open between the hours of 1 and 7 p. m. during the week preceding the holidays.

In addition to the rest room facilities, it is planned to serve refreshments at the church between 5 and 7 o'clock on the nights that the church is open, the lunches to be served at cost. Miss Ruth Gates will be hostess in charge of the rest room. Couches and easy chairs will be provided for all visitors.

THE CONSOLIDATED TEXTILES

The movements of the woolen industries during the past six months have not been closely followed by investors, because everyone knows the woolen mills have been very busy, with plenty of orders ahead and no reduction of wages in the office. The reported organization of a new textile corporation with ramified interests far and wide, and all practically under the control of President Wood of the American Woolen Company, through the usual devious system of management, brings to light the reasons for the recent rise in the strength of the Consolidated Textile stocks on the market of the country.

On Tuesday when the part of the stock market "family" were going to pieces quotation-wise, the Consolidated was on the upward bound and healthy in action. The reason for it was revealed the following day when it was learned that the corporation had some of the most prominent textile men in New England newly associated with its management; the men being William M. Wood and William M. Butler.

When this Consolidated concern was organized a few years ago as a merger of textile manufacturing plants, it was considered more or less in the light of a stock market proposition. That was in the boom days of 1919. Allan Ryan was then its market sponsor. In 1920 the stock sold up as high as $45.

The chief criticism of the company at that time was that, floated in so-called boom times, when profits were large, it was "over-capitalized." The company today is said to have a debt equal to something like $25 a spindle, ahead of the stock, though New England cotton mills in general carry their plants on their books at prices ranging from $7 to $15 a spindle.

Nevertheless, because men who know the New England textile game, have now entered the management of the Consolidated, with the Wood interests standing back of the associated corporate plants, it is suggested that in the future there will be something quite different from a mere stock market proposition. This new organization measures up to the size of some of the great industrial combines started after the McKinley tariff took effect and that finally were known as the great trusts of that period.

HARD COAL PROBLEMS

Cold weather has arrived and the supply of anthracite coal is just as scarce as it was in mild weather. There is no doubt whatever that a great many people in this state, as well as in other New England states, will suffer during the coming months for the lack of hard coal. It is the poorer class of people who have to depend upon anthracite for heating their homes. If they had steam or furnace heat, they could use bituminous coal without difficulty.

In connection with this coal question, the fact comes up that the state of Pennsylvania is taxing the export of anthracite coal 1½ per cent of its value when ready for shipment. It seems that the state has been upheld in this course despite the fact that the constitution forbids the taxation of exports. Coal is one of the exports of the state of Pennsylvania and in imposing this tax, the state is discriminating against all the other states and using its position for preferential purposes on the national products which should be controlled for the use of the entire nation.

There can be only two ways of settling this question. One is the nationalization of the coal mines, and the other to admit hard coal free of tariff duties and invite imports in opposition to the hard coal mines in Pennsylvania. The people of this country have already suffered enough from the selfish policy of the state of Pennsylvania in the matter of taxing the products of its anthracite mines. Pennsylvania should be made to feel that after all it is subordinate to the national government and that resources can defeat its preferential course by adopting government ownership of the mines.

THE FEEBLE-MINDED

Announcement is made of the opening of Massachusetts' newest state school for the feeble-minded at Belchertown, by production of Governor Cox. This school is another link in the institutional chain of similar organizations to care for this class of unfortunate in the Bay State. The need is great, we are informed, in fact many authorities on correctional institutions insist that there are not enough institutions of this kind to take care of the floating population that should be kept in such places for regular treatment and supervision. Men who know conditions, say the institutions now operated are wholly inadequate to care for the steadily increasing number of the feeble-minded—a problem that confronts the state with alarming possibilities each coming year. Reformatories are not the place for these unfortunate, although many so-called feeble-minded are kept there now. The institutions at Waverley and Wrentham have been fairly crowded for some time; and 200 boys have been transferred to the new Belchertown school. As a sample of what it is costing the taxpayers of Massachusetts to provide quarters for the care of this class of unfortunate, the Belchertown school represents an expenditure of more than $1,250,000. And more must be spent before all feeble-minded persons are adequately provided for. No wonder expert medical men and students of the human race declare that mankind is approaching a critical state of affairs with such institutions increasing all over the land and entrants always waiting to be taken in and treated because of their menace to normal humanity.

THE PRIMARY RESULTS

Now that the people have expressed their preference in regard to candidates for municipal office under Plan II, it remains to make a further selection from the list of nominees on election day. As usual, in primary elections under the present form of election, there was a large number of candidates; and it must be said that from the long list of aspirants for the council and the school committee, the selections show fairly good judgment. It is true that some good men failed to secure the nomination and that a few perhaps less desirable have been nominated.

The chief interest, however, centered in the majority contest and the people have decided that the present mayor, George H. Brown, and John J. Donovan shall be the contestants in the final election. Ex-Mayor Thompson and Jeremiah O'Sullivan, Esq., made a clean and honorable fight but failed to secure the vote necessary to overcome their opponents.

EDWARD AINSLEY SLEEPER

Many a man is born to cloistered fame, though he invents something that adds the whole world. The recent death of a man whose name is not widely known, we believe, recalls the invention of the plain tin-edged dust pan, so useful in every household, as every clearly housewife knows.

Edward Ainsley Sleeper, native of Plaisville, N. H., passes on at the Old Men's home in Westville, N. H. This man perfected a dust pan with a tin edge that proved to be revolutionary in every way and an instant success when the pans were marketed. Though Sleeper accumulated a fortune, he won no fame because of his riches. He fought in the Civil war, but his name is not recorded on any rolls of honor, perhaps.

Because he made something a little better than someone else, the world made the proverbial "beaten path to his door," and there his fame rests with a useful household implement for his simple memorial.

FOR JOBLESS "VETS"

Col. Alvin W. Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, believes that the best way for the Legion to serve the country is to obtain legislation to take care of all disabled ex-service men and to prevent unemployment. In a statement at Philadelphia on Monday last, the colonel says:

"I am appealing to the big business men of the country to make a special effort to see that no man who fought or served in the war is allowed to be hungry or cold."

The Owsley suggestion appears to be well taken. We believe many problems of this kind will be taken care of when the need of employment of these men, many of whom are able to perform work of various kinds, is brought to the attention of the country at large.

EASTERN SHOWING PROFIT

From Haverhill Wednesday came a rather glowing report of the public trustees controlling the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Division in the Shoe City. Mayor Plauders has just received the monthly statement of the trustees for October for the Haverhill division only. It shows an actual profit of $2,536.17. The receipts were $37,131.13, with expenses of $34,645.02.

This is the second time this year the Haverhill division of the Eastern lines has shown a profit, the March statement disclosing about $1,000 balance on the right side.

When will the Lowell division show as good prospects for a return of some measure of old-time prosperity for the local Eastern lines as the Haverhill figures would lead us to believe, comparing them with figures of a year ago and even farther back than that?

THE POSTAL RECEIPTS

Opinions are about equal when it comes to finding prosperity signs in the heavily increased local postal receipts. Lowell isn't the only city with glowing reports of larger business at its postal institution that attests to the mail distribution of the people. In Boston there has been a $200,000 increase in postal business this fall, with increases reported almost every day since the middle of November.

Postmaster Baker of Boston reports that postal receipts are actually running from 17 to 18 per cent higher than six months ago. The Lowell district, we are informed, is showing nearly the same percentage. Everything in this branch of the people's department of service, points to steadily advancing business.

Though we're striving toward the ideal, it sometimes seems we are making but little progress. We have the primary results—the informal ballot, as it were, for municipal offices and we have time enough to think over the qualifications of the various candidates.

If we can't have a merchant dealing without subsidies, then we must pay the subsidies.

Lowell is face to face with a decision that may have far-reaching effects upon her future.

It was a glorious holiday and fittingly observed.

SEEN AND HEARD

Judging from the success of Messrs. Brown and Donovan the police department is a good preparatory school for politicians.

They seldom have lightning in the polar regions, so that would be a fine plug to go to tell a lie.

What this country needs is onions too polite to smell in company.

Well, anyway, the councilors-at-large have the Lord with them.

"The Cheese" Party
The cry of "One Cheese" rings through the little republic of Andorra, perched high in the Pyrenees Mountains. The "One Cheese" party is opposed to the semi-annual tribute of two cheeses to the Bishop of Urgel, decreed by the Act of Pargance, the Magna Charta of Andorra, written in 1288.

"The Chiffonier"
In a recent county court case one of the witnesses was a cannibal who did not deny that he had "little love for the master race." He raised a roar of laughter by describing the defendant as a "chiffonier."

On repeating the blunder, he was pulled up by counsel for the defense. "Chiffonier, my friend, a chiffonier," corrected the latter, "a chiffonier, you know, is an ornamental wood case, with a lid in the direction of the chiffonier." "Call him what you like, I dare say we're both pretty near the mark!"

Easy Words To TELL
The farmer and his hired man were sitting under the hedgehog taking cover from their labors. The hired man was sound and enthusiastic, and he was eager to gain knowledge. So he perpetually asked questions. "Which weeds are the easiest to kill?" he inquired. The farmer, gazed at him shrewdly. "Windows," he replied. "Why, you've only to see 'em!" "Will them?" to them and they will.

Chin of the Old Black
Reading about the two little English girls who, according to Conan Doyle, discovered real fairies in the woods, we were reminded of another child because he was so different. Robert, the 4-year-old son of a settler in the country most of his short life. One day a visitor, wishing to make friends with the little fellow, took him on his knee and asked: "Are there any fairies in your woods here, Robert?" "No," responded the child promptly, "but there are plenty of edible fungi!"

A Thought
This is the gospel of Labor—Ring it, ye bells of the kirk! The lord of love came down from above. To live with the men who work. This is the man he planted; Here in the thorn-cursed soil; Heaven is best with perfect rest; But the blessing of the earth is toll. —HENRY VAN DYKE.

Are They Lying?
Reading proverbs, I must strive To be wise to what they mean; They refer to beasts that I've Never seen.

Voices, for instance, by my gun Have been slaughtered by the score. But I've never yet seen one At the door.

Here's a second case where I Must acknowledge acquaintance—I have never seen a fly In the ointment.

And, although it seems to be Very common, yet I fear I have never had a flea In my ear.

Taken again, though my endeavor Is to make experience full, In a china shop I have never Seen a bull.

And the fact appears to me Curious, as I muse upon it—I have never had a bee In my bonnet!

I have never seen a hog On the ice; and, what is stranger, I have never seen a dog In the manger.

All these wise old saws must prove Simple nature fakes, I wot; Full of hearts that I've and you've Never seen!

THE MAN ABOUT TOWN

We are glad to see various fraternal organizations aiding sick and disabled war veterans, members of the American Legion and similar organizations who deserve assistance at this time of the year.

Some gratuity has been expressed over reports of conditions at the Parker Hill dispensary, where numerous veterans are being given hospital care. It was reported some time ago that the Elks' hospital there, supported by B.P.O.E. organization funds, paying all expenses, on Parker Hill was soon to be closed. The Massachusetts Association of Disabled Veterans of the World War informs us that it is making a strenuous effort to keep this hospital where it is, hoping to have it kept open indefinitely as a convalescent station for former soldiers.

The 100,000, we are informed, is being fought the day it took a chance on Campthorpe. After all the years I suffered, it feels good to be well again. Robert W. Treasdale, 1877 High St., Camden, N. J.

No worthy cause deserving the support of warm-hearted Lowell citizens is more in need of aid at this time of the year than St. Peter's orphanage on Stevens street. Donations of food and clothing and other useful articles, are solicited from friends old and new. This is the time of the year when warmer clothing is needed—when supplies of various kinds are desired to carry on the work for so many little children. The demands of this year are still great, the number of children larger than in some other years, and it is hoped by the kindly supervisors of this noble institution that donations this year will be larger than ever before. It was announced this morning that all donations should be made this week before Saturday evening, if possible.

Camden Man's Amazing Message to Rheumatics

After Suffering Intense Agony for Many Years—He Wants to Tell Others.

Dr. Brighell: I simply had to write and tell you what your wonderful Camphorole has done for me. For many years I suffered the tortures of Rheumatism as only those who have it know. At the same time I had a terrible itch and covered with sores, the sharp pains were so severe, I could not sleep. Had to get up and rub myself with Camphorole. It almost drove me crazy. I tried doctor after doctor and all kinds of medicine I was told to take, which only left me worse. I could not bend my knees, I am a sufferer by trade and had to give up my work. Seeing your advertisement in a paper, I thought I would take another chance and told my daughter to get me a package of Camphorole. You can imagine my surprise after using Camphorole, I started to get better right away. After using two jars of Camphorole I am well and happy and have gone back to work. I shall never forget the day I took a chance on Camphorole. After all the years I suffered, it feels good to be well again. Robert W. Treasdale, 1877 High St., Camden, N. J.

Berton Braley's Daily Poem STREETS

You like straight streets that are meted and paved
And lead to a definite place,
Trim, regular streets that are well behaved
And easy to map and trace.
They lead from home to your daily job
And back to your home again,
Broad streets worn smooth by a humdrum mob
Of patiently plodding men.

But I like streets that are queer and quaint,
That lead—well, I know not where;
That dwindle at length to a trail that's faint,
Where the wandering pilgrims fare.
You like the streets where you can't get lost,
I'm fond of them where I can,
The wavering, nimble roads, unbossed
By the "practical paving man."

You like the streets that from end to end
Are old and familiar ways,
I love the by-ways that wind 'and wind
'Till lost in the distant haze;
So keep to your street that is straight and fine,
A carefully measured track,
And I'll light-heartedly follow mine,

French Army Officers Coming to U. S.

PARIS, Dec. 1.—(By the Associated Press)—The chamber of deputies today approved an amendment proposed by its military committee appropriating 300,000 francs to "send a mission of live officers to America" for the purpose of advancing good relations. No specific countries in either North or South America were mentioned.

FARMERS BALL AND CHARACTER PARTY

The town hall in North Chelmsford was the scene of a farmers' ball and character party. Thanksgiving eve.

The affair was given under the auspices of Court Wainwright, M.C.O.F. The hall was decorated for the occasion, the attendance was large and the program was very enjoyable.

In the early part of the evening there was a grand march and later prizes were awarded by the judges as follows: Most attractive costume, Miss Mary Welch and Bryant Rousseau, who impersonated Martha and George.

Washington, best looking farmer and farmwife, Mr. and Mrs. Walter May; Most amusing costumes, Mrs. Henry O. Miner as Santa Claus and Charles Donaldson, typical country boy.

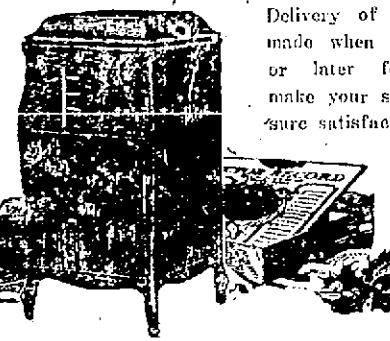

At the close of the grand march general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour, refreshments being served in the lower hall during intermission.

The committee in charge of the arrangements consisted of Miss Mary K. Daley, Mary Welch, Anna Moran, Margaret McManney, Helen Welch and George Murphy. The judges were William Clifford, Dr. O'Brien and George Morris.

The, always necessary Odd Skirt for the new Sports Sweater or the extra Suit Jacket—comes now in a particularly, satisfying version of the always popular Plaid, Striped, Prunella—or smartly subdued Plaid. Satisfying because the material is of a quality that will wear and wear—because the tailoring is honest, painstaking, durable. Satisfying because the Color Patterns are new and always harmonious. A special group assembled for this sale. Specially Priced—and well worth trying Cheerful new Tailored Dimities—well made—trim and youthful. Peter Pan or Roll Collars, and Turnover Cuffs—make them the indispensable complement to the Sports Skirt and Sweater, or the Tailored Suit. Striped and Crossbar patterns; buttons up the back or front; embroidered collars; tiny lace edgings; fluted ruffle finish; all the little details that go into the making of the trimly Tailored Blouse are seen—so that you may have to take two or more to settle the question in your mind as to which of them is the very prettiest. And—the price helps along, too, doesn't it! These Blouses look as if they should cost (as indeed they should) considerable more.

Slip-on Sweaters are distinctly an American contribution to the language of Sport-Wear—and they have very evidently come to stay—for the American woman wears nothing more becoming in the way of Practical, Workaday, or Playaday Dress. The models in this Special Group are of Mohair, all wool, with V or round necks, neatly finished shoulders and cuffs, and knitted in a straight up and down weave that adapts itself so well to this type of Sweater. Woolly enough for warmth—and light enough to wear with perfect comfort under Suit Jacket or Top Coat. In all the wanted Fall Shades, including Silver Gray and the so-becoming light Tan or Beige.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE in "Scandal"

that 500,000 meters is the highest practicable wave length for any kind of transmission, and it is estimated there will be a demand for 1,000,000 transmission licenses at any one time, then allotments may be made by which each operator is allowed half a meter wave length at a certain definite measurement. Thus, if all operators stuck to their allotments, and did not exceed the bounds of their range, every one of them could use the air at the same time without experiencing any interference.

What the highest possible limit is, is a matter of conjecture at present, and one of study for radio engineers. The highest wave length in practical use today is 25,000 meters, the high limit for secret naval communication. Commercial companies use wave lengths of 1500 to 1800 meters, while government stations send out public reports on wave lengths of 2500 or 3000 meters.

Scientific Experimenting
Experiments are being pursued toward the practicability in use of much higher wave lengths. In Omaha, Dr. Frederick H. Miller and Harry G. Gurney have a receiving set with which they say they could hear messages sent out on a wave length of 500,000 meters. Marconi, the famous wireless inventor, had a powerful receiving set on his yacht, Elettra, with which he reported having received a wireless message on a wave length of about 500,000 meters.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

THE STRAND

One simply can't help enjoying the latest Tom Mix picture, "Just Tony." Not so much because of Mix himself, as his good, old horse, Tony. This animal is the subject about which the author has woven a decidedly interesting yarn of the west. Don't miss it. Miss Corinne Griffith in "A Woman's Sacrifice" is a story of the north land, and it's several degrees superior to many of the other big successes that had their locale there. The comedy and weekly are great.

SUNDAY AT THE STRAND

Another one of those high-class programs has been arranged by Manager Torgan at The Strand for Sunday. Look it over and judge for yourself. The vaudeville program will be headed by the famous Five Melody Maids and there will be four other high-grade acts. There will be an entire change of pictures with Constance Talmadge in one of her brightest successes, "Scandal," in the lead. You can't ask for anything much superior to that. Get in early and avoid the crush.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

The closing days of the big bill at the Keith theatre will undoubtedly see big audiences to give the show. With George Rolland, Billy Kelley & Co. in "Bringing Home the Christmas Tree" as a headliner, one is assured of real comedy pleasure. The amazing work of the Misses Moody and Duncan in "Opera and Jazz, Inc." is sure to please, while the unapologetic steps of the year are the Dixie Four. These youngsters are alive every minute. The recital given by the Four Building Sisters cannot fail to win approval, and the dancing and singing of Jeanette Childs, the Joy Girl, is liked very much. Then there is McSovereign, the master diabolical player, with Reddington & Grant offering a tramp-comedy novelty known as "Bounce Inn."

LOWELL OPERA HOUSE

Large and delighted audiences thoroughly enjoyed a snappy musical comedy, "Oh, Joy," with Harry Ingalls, "Checker Girls," upon its initial presentation yesterday afternoon and evening at the Lowell Opera House. The revue proved to be an entertaining feature throughout, the "Checker Girls" appearing in beauty, decorated with lively songs and dances. There is an attractive display of gay costumes and stage settings, also, many bringing new novelties to Lowell. The Ingalls production is one of the best that has appeared at the Opera House this season. For interesting variety, music and dancing, the aggregation has few equals on the New England stage circuit.

A feature of the opening performance yesterday was the music, all numbers being well presented and the leading members of the company showing considerable talent. Of course the offering would not be complete without a real show, and the one with the "Checker Girls" show proved surprise and a delight to many Opera patrons.

Excellent comedy by Lew Williams and Al Lemon also featured the performance, the dancing chorus being well trained.

The "Checker Girls" remain for the balance of this week, with performance this afternoon and evening and two shows tomorrow.

Next week Manager Schanke announces a brand new idea in musical comedy, "The Smart Set Revue," with another beauty chorus and a cast of 25 in all, including new comedians, S. T. Whitney, Arnon Davis and J. Homer Tutt, all stars in the funny world. Seats are now on sale at the box office.

RIALTO THEATRE

Beginning this afternoon and continuing for the remainder of the week the program at the Rialto theatre will feature Mary Pickford in "Through the Back Door," also Richard Talmadge in "Watch Him Step," together with a thrilling episode of "The Jungle Goddess," and the Rialto News Review.

In the picture "Through the Back Door," Mary Pickford is seen again in one of her charming productions that have made her famous as a screen actress.

ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

A novena in honor of the Immaculate Conception was begun in St. Patrick's church Wednesday night with a large congregation present. Devotions under the direction of the Sisters of Notre Dame, will be continued until December 8, the feast of the Immaculate Conception. This evening the services will begin at 7 o'clock in the upper church. Benediction will be given by Rev. Joseph A. Curran and the congregation standing by all present will be directed by Miss Mary Egan, with Sarah A. Murray as organist.

STOLEN AUTOS RECOVERED

Two autos were stolen during the past 18 hours but both have been recovered by the police. The touring car of Chief Saunders was taken from in front of the Auditorium on Wednesday night. It was found in the Oakland yesterday morning. Last night N. J. Lavoie, of Wilder street, reported that his car had been stolen from Lincoln square. It was recovered this morning in Carlisle street.

YMCA GRATEFUL

President Thomas R. Higgins, Esq., of the Young Men's Catholic Institute said this morning that the organization wishes to thank the people of the city for the splendid attendance at their musical extravaganza, "Under the Spotlight," at the Auditorium last evening. Every seat in the magnificent Auditorium was occupied and it was necessary to turn a great number of people away. The organization is indeed sorry to disappoint the many who were unable to gain admittance. Undoubtedly "Under the Spotlight" will be repeated in the near future, however President Higgins wishes to emphasize the fact that no authority has been given anyone to name the time or place for same.

RIVERSIDE CLUB

The 5th anniversary of the founding of the Riverside club, composed of a group of West Centralville young men will be fittingly observed in the club rooms next Thursday night. The committee on entertainment has arranged an elaborate program and has invited the best talent in the city to be present. An invitation has also been extended to Mayor Brown. The present officers of the club are as follows: President, John P. Roddy; vice president, James L. Caffrey; secretary, Peter B. Hopkins and treasurer, Chas. T. McGinn.

STUDENT AND GIRL LOSE LIVES IN AUTO CRASH

HAD ATTACK ONLY BLOCK FROM HOME

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Dec. 1.—John Decker, aged 23 years, of Providence, Me., a Brown university sophomore, was instantly killed and Miss Nadine, aged 22 years, of Millis, Me., a student at the New England Conservatory of Music at Boston, was fatally injured, when the automobile in which they were riding with two other student couples was demolished early yesterday morning in East Providence.

Miss De Witt, George R. Decker, aged 21 years, a senior at Brown, brother of the dead man and the driver of the car, Robert E. Pellman, aged 21 years, another senior and a member of the varsity football squad at that university, Miss Irene Coy, Boston, and Miss Lucille Burroughs, of Warren, Mass., the latter two both classmates of Miss De Witt at the New England Conservatory of Music, were the other occupants of the car, who escaped with slight cuts and bruises and a bad shaking up.

The fatal ride was started upon at an early hour yesterday morning following a dance held at Phi Kappa Psi Fraternity house in this city. The accident is ascribed to George Decker's unfamiliarity with the road and the belief that he was driving too fast to negotiate the sharp turn at the junction of the two streets where the crash occurred. The car is said to have skidded and crashed into trees and poles at the side of the road.

Toucheville, grappled with him after Gullbault had covered the grocer with a revolver and demanded his money and that in the struggle Toucheville, who was a burly man, seized him by the neck and jammed him against a post.

She said that Gullbault claimed that Toucheville shot at him first and that he fired twice after the grocer had fired one bullet at him. Gullbault told her, she said, that after Toucheville had been shot, the young man ran from the scene and later took her to the dance at Silver Lake, the couple going there on the trolley cars.

Among the thousands of Connecticut people who are praying for the return to health, strength and happiness is Mrs. E. M. Stercks, 91 Henry street, New Haven. Mrs. Stercks recently said:

"I don't know a doubt in my mind but what Tanlac has prolonged my life and I don't believe it has an equal in the world. For two years past I have suffered from stomach trouble in its worst form. My appetite left me entirely and when I did eat a little something I would just suffer agony from gas, pain, bloating and heartburn. I also suffered from sick headaches and dizzy spells. One day I went to the store to do some shopping and got so dizzy I thought I would fall on the street. I certainly felt thankful that I was only a block away from home.

"My nerves were so shattered that a good night's sleep was out of the question and as I continued to get weaker and weaker I began to have terrible fits. I was a well woman, I haven't a sign of my old troubles and eat and sleep like a child. My mother and daughter, Myrtle, are now taking Tanlac with fine results. It certainly is a grand medicine.

"Tanlac is sold by all good druggists."

While at the dance a man told Gullbault that Toucheville had been shot and later he learned that the grocer was dead.

Wednesday night, Miss Martin stated to the police, after the dance Gullbault stayed at her home. She did not let him go home because she was afraid the police might pick him up. He told her he would never be taken alive.

Gullbault's father and mother wanted him home yesterday for Thanksgiving dinner and Miss Martin accompanied him there. While they were awaiting the preparation of the dinner, Gullbault, she stated, looked out of the window and saw police officers and others about the house and jumped out of the window carrying the cash and made his escape.

The police are scouring the vicinity of Gullbault's home and watching the homes of relatives where it is believed, the fugitive may seek a hiding place.

The police this morning learned that Gullbault has in his possession two revolvers and an ample supply of ammunition.

MEMORIAL MASS IN ST. PATRICK'S CHURCH

About 500 members of Clan Na Gael and the Irish National Brotherhood attended a memorial mass for deceased members in St. Patrick's church at 9 O'Connell yesterday morning. Rev. John J. McGarry, D. C. L., celebrated the mass. At the conclusion of the services, the members repaired to A.O.H. hall, Middle street, where an enthusiastic meeting was held. Among the speakers were Daniel J. Murphy, Stephen Flynn and Patrick Mahoney, the latter being chairman on arrangements for yesterday's services. A splendid musical program, consisting of old and new Irish airs, was carried out, followed by a discussion of Irish affairs of moment.

There will be a meeting tonight of the general committee in charge of the carnival to be conducted in Associate hall under Hibernian auspices on the evenings of January 5, 16, 17 and 18. At tonight's meeting, further arrangements for the big event will be made. The reports of the various committees made thus far show everything to be progressing satisfactorily. Division II has organized an active committee consisting of Joseph Garity, chairman; John Tully, treasurer, and John Mealey, secretary. The other divisions, I and 3, have also started soliciting funds and will award special prizes to the holders of the lucky number on the tickets disposed of by their representatives.

SPRINGFIELD, Dec. 1.—Though actual figures are withheld pending submission to the Trolleyman's association meeting tonight, both officers of the association and of the Springfield Street Railway company, stated today that the wage scale compromise reached in recent conferences in Boston to take effect Jan. 1, was entirely satisfactory both to company and union officials.

CHARACTER PARTY IN LINCOLN HALL

Lincoln hall was the scene of a party gathering Wednesday evening, the occasion being the first annual character party under the auspices of the Hub Hosiery girls. There were over 300 couples in attendance, most of whom were attired in all kinds of costumes. The hall was beautifully decorated with paper streamers of various colors, the predominant color scheme being yellow and black.

So successful was the affair that the organizers are not only planning to make the event an annual one, but they are also planning to form a permanent organization among the employees of the Hub Hosiery mills in Middle street, the purpose and aim of which will be to promote the social welfare of the men and women by the company and in their endeavors they have the full support of the superintendent, Emilio Trudel.

The first number on Wednesday evening's program was a grand march at the close of which prizes were awarded as follows: First special prize, a $5 pair of shoes donated by Emilio Trudel of the 20th Century shoe store, for best appearing costume, Miss Adrienne Shultz; first lady's prize, Mrs. Rose Patenaude, second, Miss Josephine Adamowski; first gentleman's, Frank Douville; second, Willard Laurin; first lady's, Emily, Miss Rose Christian; first gentleman's, Fred Beauchemin. The judges were Emilio Trudel, Philippe Roy, Adhemard Smith, Horve Lamoureux, A. Desforges.

During intermission refreshments were served and at the close of the evening favors were distributed. The officers of the evening were as follows: Emilio Trudel, general manager; George Bellville, assistant; Leo Cayser, floor marshal; Peter Blason, assistant; George Bellville, floor director; Miss Alice Traveray, assistant; Mrs. Eugenie Douville, treasurer; Miss Lee Martel, secretary; Oscar Painchaud, chief aid; Miss Albina Caron, aid.

The various committees responsible for the success of the affair were as follows: Miss Alice Traveray, Miss Eva E. Lander, R.N.; Miss Blaise Silva, printing; Peter Blason, George Goyette, Raymond Lorette and Joseph Carpenter, checking; Leo Cayser, Louis Jodoin, Miss Rose Patenaude, Miss Regina Bourgeois, Miss Anna Wayda, Miss Lena Cheswick, Miss Corinne Coulombe, Miss Christina Vassily, Miss Rose, Miss Albina Carpenter, Miss Blanche Desmarais, Miss Gertrude Desmarais and Miss Yvonne Fontaine, refreshments.

JUDGE'S HOME FIRED

WOBURN, Dec. 1.—The home of Judge John J. McGuire of the Woburn district court was gutted by fire early yesterday, endangering the lives of the judge, his son, W. Frank, and the latter's family, and forcing them to flee in their night clothes through the snow to the homes of friends. Police last night expressed belief that the fire was of incendiary origin and set by revengeful moonshiners as there had been an unusual number of these cases before Judge McGuire recently.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 1.—Death last night ended the legislative career of Representative James R. Mann, republican, of the second Illinois district, long rated as a giant of the house. He was 66 years old.

Returning here two weeks ago for the opening of the special session of congress, Mr. Mann, who had served his people for upwards of a quarter of a century, took part in the preliminary work of the house. A week ago, however, he was forced to stay at home on account of illness, which failed to shake off. His condition at first was not regarded as serious, and it was not until yesterday afternoon after pneumonia had developed, that the doctors pronounced him dying. He rallied, but the physicians charged for the worse as the night

MANCHESTER, N. H., Dec. 1.—Eight pedestrians were hurt, three seriously, yesterday afternoon, when a large touring car, owned by Louis Rollins of this city, and driven by Peter J. Tsiknas, drove at full speed upon the sidewalk at the corner of Hanover and Elm streets, the city most crowded spot in the business section. Before the car could be stopped the eight people had been swept into the street, and one woman was crushed beneath the machine that it was some time before she could be extricated.

Tsiknas was held at the police station on the charge of reckless driving were on. Shortly before midnight with his wife and his physicians a

Yelling invectives against the aldermen, the mob gave emphasis to its words by hurling stones and other missiles. Then one leader suggested that the hall be entered and the demonstrators made a concerted rush forward. The police guards fired their rifles over the heads of the crowd which, however, did not check it. The mob would enter the building despite the police, the latter aimed their rifles point blank and fired with deadly effect.

Staggered by the bullets the demonstrators retired, carrying with them their dead and injured.

Set Fire to Hall
But in half an hour they returned and several of their number, breaker windows, entered the hall and began to look for the files. Valuable documents, some of which dated back several centuries, were tossed into the streets and the city records were given over to the winds.

By this time the federal troops had arrived, but the intruders were not ejected before the building had been wrecked in many places and the furniture destroyed.

Several sporadic attempts to continue the demonstration were made in the following days, but the demonstrators returned to the attack when they found a column of several hundred soldiers about the building and contented themselves with hurling and hooting. Officials in general (including the members of the federal government), however, declined to comment on the affair until he had received the official report.

6000 SEE LAWRENCE HIGH BEAT LOWELL, 12 TO 0

Great Crowd in O'Sullivan Park, Lawrence, For Annual Gridiron Classic—Local Team Put Up Game Battle Forced to Bow to Superior Team

As a fitting finale to its most successful gridiron season in recent years, the Lawrence high school football team met and defeated the Lowell high eleven at O'Sullivan park, Lawrence, yesterday morning. The victory was a Thanksgiving day dinner with an appetizing 12 to 0 victory over the fighting Red and Gray of Lowell. The victors clearly displayed their superiority over the Spindle City team by registering two well earned touchdowns while Lowell was held in check all during the game and never allowed to come within threatening distance of the down-rivermen's goal. Although fighting every inch of the way, the Lowell crew had no sustaining power of attack and were forced to succumb to the mighty rushes of the blue-jerseyed athletes of Lawrence. Both sides fought hard to win and while the "never say die" spirit of the local representatives was demonstrated to the fullest extent, the better team won.

Over 6000 Present
The annual classic attracted the biggest crowd ever over 6000 spectators being present, and nearly half of that number from Lowell. The cheering sections, Lowell on the one side and Lawrence on the other, entered into a merry competition as to variety and volume of cheers and the organized greetings and applause reverberated throughout the enclosure at given intervals. Lowell's cheering was the best in years, but to the Lawrence students must the laurels be given in this department. Their snare dance in token of victory at the conclusion of the game was wonderful to behold, and not until the long line of march had reached the Lawrence city hall did the ranks disband.

But to get back to the game. It would be a rarity for any team to win a football game when it makes only two first downs. That is just what Lowell did, and these came in the last period of play when the game was safely tucked away in the records of Lawrence High. It cannot be said that Lowell lost the game because she did not take advantage of opportunities. She might have opportunities because the opposition did not present them. For the greater part of the game the ball was in Lowell territory, forcing Willard, fullback, to punt for the second and third downs. To attempt a rush through the line was futile, the Lawrence frontier in-

McManman Great
The annual classic marked the "letter" game for both teams. Besides the eleven regulars who started the game for Lowell, Coach Liston was forced to inject ten substitutes into the lineup, and every man played to the best of his ability. A particularly outstanding star in the Lowell line was Captain John McManman, who, playing his final game as a member of a local high school eleven, covered himself with glory and was the most disappointed man on the grounds when he came to realize that his team failed of victory. McManman showed outstanding ability in the line, his "stuff" yesterday, his powerful defensive work and encouragement to his fellow players being at all times conspicuous. His powerful defensive work and encouragement to his fellow players being at all times conspicuous. His powerful defensive work and encouragement to his fellow players being at all times conspicuous.

Higgins Star for Lawrence
For Lawrence, Higgins, quarterback, was in a class by himself. His headiness was responsible for the long gains made by his team which he directed with a skill surprising even his own supporters. His long end runs and line smashes were also of a thrilling nature, and with Kennedy, O'Neill, Cronin and Smith, kept the ball in Lowell territory for the major portion of the game. Lowell won the toss and elected to boot. McManman starting the game with a kick-off to the Lawrence 15-yard line, Cronin immediately started the Lawrence people cheering with a five yard gain on an off-side play and Smith followed it up with four more around his own right end. Lawrence received a five yard penalty for being off side at this juncture, but Higgins made up for it with a beautiful 15-yard jaunt around Lowell's right end. He was stopped by Kierce who made a pretty tackle. At the time only one Lowell man remained between the flashy Higgins and the Lowell goal post. Cronin kicked off 9 yards through the line. Lowell was not holding lightly enough, and Lawrence took the ball on the 20-yard line. Higgins was wonderful. Higgins then lost the ball on downs, and Lowell, unable to advance by straight rushing tactics, booted back. Smith immediately got away to an 8-yard gain and Kennedy made first down on Lowell's 42-yard line.

Cronin Makes 25-yard Run
At this point, Cronin was given the ball and continued on a merry race of 25 yards before being tackled by Chase. On another long run Smith placed the ball on the 7-yard mark and Higgins made four yards at center, but a fumble by Cronin on the next play gave Lowell the ball, and relieved the Red and Gray of a ticklish situation. Kierce made four yards at center, but a five yard penalty for being off side brought the ball back to its original position the 10-yard mark, where Willard would, forced to punt. Smith lost about four yards, being tackled by Chase, but Higgins made it up on an 8-yard end run. A criss-cross forward pass, Higgins to Twomey was ground and Lowell again took command, this time on her own 30-yard line. Still unable to puncture the Lawrence stronghold, Willard resorted to punt. Higgins, receiving for Lawrence, being nailed by Hilton on the Lowell 45-yard line. Cronin made 6 yards on the criss-cross first down, but a fumble on the next play, the period ended with the ball in Lawrence's possession on the Lowell 20-yard line.

Lawrence Scores
Davis gained 4 yards and Lowell started down the field only to be penalized 15 yards for off-side playing. This again forced Willard to punt. Kierce getting down under the ball like a flash and tackling Higgins on Lowell's 33-yard mark. A successful forward pass, Higgins to Twomey, started Lawrence going. This was followed up with a second successful pass, O'Neill to Higgins which gave Lawrence a first down on the 10-yard line. O'Neill advanced the ball to the four yard stripe and Kennedy plunged over for the first score. Higgins failed to kick the goal.

The second half of the game opened with McManman kicking off to Lawrence's 30-yard line. On three successive rushes, the Lawrence backs took it to the Lowell 40-yard line. Cronin did a stretch through tackle, but failing of a first down Higgins booted behind the Lowell goal posts and the ball was again put in play on the 20-yard stripe, where Willard punted to Higgins. Cronin got 10 yards off tackle. But McManman threw Smith without gain. Lowell lost here in an exchange of kicks, Higgins booting to Willard who returned the compliment with a hurried kick in the 20-yard line, which was indirectly responsible for the second and final score. Cronin tore off a long end run, Chase tackling him. Higgins slipped through the Lowell defence and was resting on the five yard line when the whistle sounded, after a pretty 15-yard gain. Lowell held brilliantly at the goal posts and gave a creditable exhibition of strength and stamina in the face of impending defeat, but the inevitable happened and O'Neill went across the last plankmark for a score. Cronin punched Higgins from kicking the goal. The remainder of the game saw Lawrence still having the better of the argument and the battle ended with the ball in enemy possession.

FOOTBALL HAS MANY AMUSING FEATURES

BY "BO" McHILLIN.
Football is a spectacular game and many times the crowd is amused by the players. If this results in a break in favor of the home team it pleases the crowd, but if it should go against them it will cause the spectators to groan. In my time I have seen some very peculiar plays and some of them have placed our team in dangerous positions at the time.

In a recent article I mentioned where our punt in one game missed the ball entirely on an attempt to punt. In this same game there were several other peculiar plays. Early in our game against West Virginia the Mountaineers tried the old side-string play where one man lays out near the side-line and a pass is thrown to him without a signal. But in this instance it failed to work as the man receiving the pass was thrown for a two-yard loss by our halfback. Another play in that same game shows the advantage of a smart football player over a slow thinker. West Virginia tried a trick play in which the halfback carrying the ball starts on an end run and as he is tackled he will pass the ball to another back who is behind him waiting. Roberts, who was playing defensive and for us on that day, refused to tackle the man but used his hands on him instead. Just as he was attempting to pass the ball he gave him a shove, causing a bad pass and consequently a fumble. Red scooped up the ball and ran 30 yards before he was forced out of bounds. This he broke up the offensive drive of the opposition and was largely responsible for our winning the game.

The spectators will sometimes wonder how the players manage to keep so cool under fire in a game as strenuous as football. However, the man in the stands does not know all that goes on during that 60 minutes. Even the most experienced players will get excited in the heat of a game, especially so in a hard one, when his team is about to score or be scored on for the winning touchdown. I recall one game in which Cronin was on the small end of a 6 to 0 score. We had just made a pass to one of our ends, who, by a beautiful catch and run, carried the ball to the opponents' two-yard line. With first down and only two to go the end who had caught the pass rushed back to me and said, "Throw me a pass, throw me a pass." He was about as much excited as a man could be. If he had only stopped to think he would have known it would be a bad play to try at that time. On the first play we backed the ball over and kicked the goal for the winning point.

COACH WARNER WINS NEW HONORS

By N.E.A. Service
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Nov. 23.—The University of Pittsburgh football team will close its home season with the annual Thanksgiving Day game with Pennsylvania State college at Forbes field, home of the Pittsburgh Pirates, and a crowd of 35,000—all that the park will hold—is anticipated. This will be the 25th contest between these Keystone state teams, football relations between them extending back to 1893 when Pitt was known as the Western University of Pennsylvania.

Last year and in 1920 the games resulted in scoreless ties, and in 1919 State won by the score of 20 to 7. Previous to that the Panthers have won six in a row, their victorious string starting in 1914, the year before the veteran Glenn Warner came here to coach.

Pitt has lost two games this season, to Lafayette and West Virginia universities. Lafayette won by the score of 7 to 0, and the Mountaineers triumphed by the count of 9 to 8. Warner started out this fall with a decidedly green team. He had lost by graduation last spring four of the five men in the center of his line, including Herb Stein, who had won All-America honors at center; Harvey Harman, one of the best tackles ever developed here; Leon Kelly and Fred Peters. He also lost his All-American back, Tom Davies, one of the greatest broken-field runners in modern football—a real dash, whose place could not be easily filled.

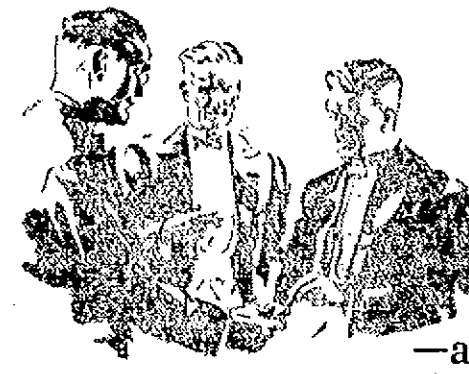

Then in the Lafayette game this fall he lost Captain Tom Holleran, his quarterback, who was put out of it with a broken arm. Holleran was a tower of strength in the back field, a great interferer and a fine defensive player. He was also a beast at throwing forward passes and receiving them.

Then, on the eve of the game, Nick Shuter, second quarterback, who had been playing rapidly, was stricken with pneumonia, and in the struggle with Quakers Nick Colonna, second string fullback, suffered a dislocated elbow which deprived the coach of his services.

Pitt has fine record
In spite of numerous handicap Warner kept steadily at work, defeated Bucknell, Syracuse, Cincinnati, Geneva and Penn, and topped this with a most brilliant victory over Pitt's sectional rival, Washington at Jefferson, last Saturday.

Prominent in the W. & J. defense were H. C. Finnegan, Orville M. Hewitt, J. C. Winterburn, Jack Sack, Charley Bower and John Anderson. Pitt is mighty proud of its grid players, practically all of whom are products of highland prep schools. Western Pennsylvania. Coach Warner took this outfit and welded it into a machine which is showing more power and drive with every game. Pitt is one of the three colleges in the state of Pennsylvania which observe the one-year residence and the three-year competition eligibility rules, the others being University of Pennsylvania and Pennsylvania State college.

Polish Premiere and
Lowell Auditorium Dec. 12

Returned to New York as a musician. He made a "come-back" and his triumphant reception by his friends was a real affair in the sense that most of the music-lovers made up most of the audience. Critics concerned themselves with the possibilities that an interference of politics might have affected the pianist's art. His performance perfect. A great pianist is as good if not better than ever.

He is one of the great outstanding stars of our time; he has been premier of Poland, the fifth largest nation in the continent of Europe; he is an actor of distinction. Such varied endowments have not been heard of since the Renaissance. Paderewski is really greater than his art.

Seated for his Lowell recital in Memorial Auditorium December 12 will go, said, at Steinert's, 130 Merrimack, tomorrow morning. Mail orders are being received, but no telephone orders will be taken for this outstanding auditorium attraction of the season.

REVOLUTION DENIED

CONSTANTINOPLE, Dec. 1.—(By Associated Press.) The reports of a revolution in western Thrace are being propagated, emanating from Turkish sources in Constantinople to influence the Near Eastern conference at Lausanne. Minor incidents which have occurred are said to be due to the usual activities of the irregulars.

RECITAL BY PUPILS OF PROFESSOR BOND

Pupils of Frederic Gerald Bond gave a pleasing song recital last evening in Colonial hall, the various numbers on the extensive program appealing to a large audience, being well calculated to display the vocal ability and musical expression of the students. Mr. Bond also sang several selections excellently and assisted his pupils in various duets. The assisting artist was Valdo E. Murphy, an accomplished local violinist. The program contained songs by various composers of merit, notably Donizetti, Verdi, Balfe, Ray, Gabrieli, Stucken, Helmund, Dvorak, Tane and Cowles.

Though the recital throughout was most excellent, each pupil appearing in order receiving commendations of high order, it may be said that of all who appeared Miss Ethel M. Santos sang a little above the ordinary. She pleased especially in the difficult air from "Ernani" with a real coloratura soprano, and received an ovation. A sweet mezzo soprano, sang Tosti's "Beauty's Eyes" with much expression and tone. The program in entirety was as follows:

Duetto from La Favorita, White Swan
Around Donizetti
Anna H. Howard, Frederic G. Bond
Song, Forgotten Cowles
Daniel L. Fahey
Song, Mother of Pearl Ball
Joseph D. Lavanon
Song, Sleep, Baby Sleep John
Barry J. Kennedy
Song, Good-bye Tosti
Richard J. Perry
Song, The Silver Ring Chaminade
Anna H. Volsard
Song, Somewhere a Voice is Calling Tane
Laura E. Doyon
Duetto, I Live and Love Thee, Campana
Marie E. Toye, Frederic G. Bond
Song, Indian Lament Dvorak
Violin
Hungarian Dance Brahms
Elizabeth Hind
Song, Beauty's Eyes Tosti
Grace L. Moran
Song, O Come With Me in the Summer-Night Bucken
John J. Farnett
Cavatina from Ernani, Fly With Me, Verdi
Ethel M. Santos
Song, One Fleeting Hour Lee
Thomas J. Sayers
Song, Si Tu Savais Balfe

WIFE SAID HUSBAND MADE DIRE THREATS

"This is the last hour for you, and me to live," said Martin Sopol to his wife, as he came home last night and flourished a pistol in her face, according to what she told Judge Fisher in police court this morning. Although no shooting was done, Martin walloped his wife on the right eye, leaving there a large shiner, according to what he admitted to the court later when he took the stand. He said that he hit his wife in the eye because she wouldn't listen to him.

It was brought out that Martin contributed to the support of his wife and their children and outside of the fact that he got a bit forceful at times in his expressions and his manner of impressing things upon his wife he was a pretty fair sort of a provider. He pleaded guilty to drunkenness and was sentenced to the house of correction for four months. He was then placed on probation for six months with the sentence suspended.

ATTACHMENT FILED
An attachment in the sum of $3500 was filed today at the local registry of deeds office by Valentine S. Peclaw against Antonio Peclaw in an action of contract.

THEY CALLED HIM AN "OLD PILL"

THAT was years ago when he packed a terrible grouch, a mighty irritable stomach and a liver that refused to do the things that all good livers should. No wonder his friends called him an "old pill" and stayed away.

But that was years ago—long before he discovered Beecham's Pills and learned that two at bedtime can bring sunshine into a man's life. Today, he's an optimist, a hero to his wife, and a staunch believer in Beecham's Pills.

The cheer that Beecham's Pills bring into a man's disposition, is the incomparable cheer of sound digestion, active liver, and the regular habits that make good health.

CONNERS IS PROBING CENTRAL BRIDGE JOB

Demis E. Connors, contractor, who at present is pressing action against the high school building commission relating to the erection of the new school by Daniel H. Walker and seeking to obtain a permanent injunction to stop payment of all money due to him under the contract, is making an examination of all transactions between the city and the Engineering Service and Construction Co., contractor on the Central bridge job.

A few days ago Mr. Connors requested the city auditor to make a copy of all bills submitted to the city by the Engineering Service and Construction Co., but when this large amount of work in the auditor's office made this an impossibility, Mr. Connors secured someone else to do this special work and today a young woman from a local business college came to the auditor's office and began to copy the amount of the bills and items thereon.

When completed in the case brought against the high school building commission by Mr. Connors and his purpose in examining the items in the Central bridge job is not known.

MORE NEW NAMES ON VOTING LISTS

The only registration session before the city election was held by the board of election commissioners Wednesday afternoon and evening, during which time 127 names were added to the list. The law states that there can be no registration of new voters within 20 days of election day and inasmuch as election falls on December 19, Wednesday was the only day that possibly could be utilized.

Men and women, however, who were on the voting lists last year, but have been dropped for some reason or other, may have their names again placed on the list by applying to the office of the election commission any time before the 19th.

New names added Wednesday were distributed in the nine wards as follows: Ward 1, 13; ward 2, nine; ward 3, 20; ward 4, seven; ward 5, 11; ward 6, 23; ward 7, 10; ward 8, 11; ward 9, five.

MANY ENLISTMENTS HERE FOR NAVY

Enlistments in the navy at the local recruiting station have taken a step forward during the past month, no less than 32 young men, ranging in years from 18 to 30, being sent to Boston for final examination. The local recruiters gave all applicants a preliminary examination here and then sent them to Boston where a navy doctor subjects them to a more rigid test. If the Boston authorities pass satisfactorily on the applicant he is sent to Newport for his appointment and after four months there, a ship assignment is given. This morning one Lowell boy, Francis M. Egan of 117 Tenth street, enlisted as an electrician. He will receive additional training in the navy electrical school and awarded a rating.

FIELD WHIST PARTY
The annual Thanksgiving eve whist under the auspices of the C.M.A.C. baseball team was held in the assembly hall of the organization in Park street Wednesday evening and was largely attended. Whist was the first number on the program and ten deals were played after which suitable prizes in the form of turkeys and chickens and other good things were awarded. While the judges were counting up the points entertainment numbers were given by George Labelle and Charles Chausse. There was also a radio concert under the direction of Joseph Hirsch, chairman in charge of the committee in charge consisted of Albert Guilbault, chairman; Henri Label, vice chairman; Philippe Morin, treasurer, and Romeo Lajeau, secretary.

didn't come prepared to pay all that money. It's only been $200 before."

"Since that time we've raised the ante," said Deputy Chief Downey. "You see we have got to keep abreast of the times."

Whereupon the defendant drew out a roll of bills and handed the clerk a check of ten, five, two, and ones. When the clerk counted them over he found he had received $1 too much and so he made the refund. Field furnished $200 in cash and the remainder was furnished in a bank book.

Thomas Bachus of Braintree pleaded guilty to illegal keeping and paid a fine of $100. A like fine was imposed upon Florence J. Murphy of Broadway.

He appealed and was ordered to furnish $300.

John G. Lowe pleaded guilty to larceny of a $35 overcoat, the property of John Wier, and to the larceny of a razor, brush and comb and a shirt, the property of James Brooks. He was on parole from the Lyman school and was taken back by Officer Gilmora.

James Carilli, who pleaded guilty to liquor offenses some time ago, but whose sentence was withheld until today was granted a continuance of two weeks before sentence would be imposed.

Louis Bagkos was arraigned on a charge of breaking and entering and larceny on a complaint of Ahmed Mustapha. He was held in $500 bail Tuesday. The defendant was arrested in Boston and brought here yesterday by Officer William Lisman. It is said that he broke into the dwelling house of the complainant on Nov. 23 and took from it a quantity of jewelry and a revolver.

Luther H. Ball, charged with non-support had his case continued to Jan. 2. On a like charge Joseph A. Parent was held in bonds of $200 until tomorrow. He pleaded not guilty and said he had been away from his wife only five days.

Daniel J. Lynch of Lawrence and James Galvin of Boston got drunk yesterday and went through the Greek section of the city soliciting money, according to what Inspector Walsh told the court. He said that Galvin had a bandage wrapped around his hand. Both men admitted their guilt and were each fined $5.

Joseph Zarlek pleaded not guilty to drunkenness, was found guilty and held until tomorrow for sentence. He is on parole from the state farm. Patrick J. Doyle was in exactly the same position as Zarlek, only he pleaded guilty. He was held in $200 until tomorrow.

Arthur Ninson paid a $20 fine after pleading guilty to operating a motor cycle recklessly in Groveland on November 21. He was arrested by a state officer. Richard Taft appeared to answer a charge of larceny. His case was again continued, this time for one week.

Over the holiday there were 20 arrests made for drunkenness. Of this number 10 faced the court and 10 were released.

FIERY, ITCHING SKIN IS QUICKLY SOOTHED WITH THIS SULPHUR

Mentho-Sulphur, a pleasant cream, will soothe the red, itchy skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema; that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

At the moment this sulphur preparation is applied, the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disfiguring eruptions. Mentho-Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Mentho-Sulphur may be had at any good drug store. —Adv.
